LOSS OF A VALUABLE BLOCKADE-RUNNER.

Terrible Bombardment of the Danish Village of Sonderborg.

Eighty Women and Children Reported Killed.

Maximilian's Difficulties Said to be Finally Settled.

HE DEPARTS FOR MEXICO APRIL 13.

The Royal mail steamer Australasian, which left Liverpool at 10:30 on the morning of the 9th, and Queenstown on the evening of the 10th of April, arrived here at 9 o'clock last evening.

The City of Baltimore, from New-York, arrived at Liverpool about 6 P. M. on the 7th inst.

PROCEEDINGS OF PARLIAMENT.

BOMBARDMENT OF SONDERBURG.

In the House of Lords, on the 7th inst., Lord Shaftesbury asked if the Government had received any information confirming the telegraph dispatch that Sonderburg had been bombarded for 24 hours without notice, and that 80 women and children had been killed, 50 houses destroyed, and the town deserted. If such was the case, the Prussian Government and the military authorities in that country ought not to be countenanced by any civilized nation. He hoped the English fleet would be sent out for the purpose of preventing the reoccurrence of such dreadful and cowardly atrocities.

Earl Russell said he had telegraphed to Mr. Buchanan, the British Minister, for information, but had not yet received any reply, and should not be warranted in expressing any opinion till he was better acquainted with the facts.

THE BUDGET.

In the House of Commons, on the 7th, Mr. Gladstone, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, made his annual financial statement, before a very crowded house. He stated that the estimated expenditure of the past fiscal year was £68,283,000 sterling, but the actual expenditure was only £67,056,000. The revenue of the year was £70,208,000, which, after deducting £800,000 expended on fortifications, left an actual surplus of £2,352,000. The following are the important changes in taxation proposed for the current year: The duty on corn (wheat) is reduced from 1s. per quarter to 3d. per cwt. The income tax is reduced 1d. on the pound. The duty on high-classed sugars is reduced 5s. 6d., and on the lower sorts 3s. 4d. The duty on fire insurance on stock in trade is reduced from 3s. to 1s. 6d. per cent. Sundry other minor and unimportant changes are proposed. The estimated surplus for the year 1864-65 is £2,570,000. Mr. Gladstone spoke for three hours, and at the conclusion of his remarks he was greeted with loud cheering.

Nearly all the papers express admiration at the consummate art of Mr. Gladstone's speech, and his recommendations are generally regarded with satisfaction. There was some carping, however, in the sugar trade.

The Times says it is a very sensible budget and also a Gladstonian work of art.

The Morning Post looks upon it as emphatically a peace budget.

THE BRITISH ENLISTMENTS.

In the House of Commons on the 8th, Sir A. Agnew asked leave in asking the question of which he had given notice to make a brief statement of facts. Two months ago a gentleman at Kingston-upon-Thames received a letter from his son, dated New-York, Jan. 22, in which he expressed himself as extremely well pleased with his ship and his Captain, under whom he had served with great comfort for eight years. Six weeks later, but a few days ago, the father received a letter from his son's Captain, dated New-York, March 11, saying, "We arrived at this port on the 20th of January; your son was missing a few days after. He went on shore a little the worse for drink and has not since returned. I fear he has been kidnapped by some of the runners of this port and sent to sea. * * * I have forwarded his effects to the Board of Trade, in London. * * * * You will obtain all information about effects, &c., at —— Mark-lane." The wretched father hurried to Mark-lane, where he received a confirmation of the Captain's story, the agent adding that New-York had become a horrible place; hundreds of young men had been kidnapped and never after heard of. Of his own son's fate, this gentleman was still in entire ignorance. He begged to ask the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whether Her Majesty's Government had received any reports from Consular officers in the United States of America, stating that British subjects had been kidnapped, detained, or otherwise outraged, with the object of forcing them to serve as soldiers in the Federal Army?

Mr. Layard begged to state, in answer to his honorable friend, that Her Majesty's Government had received reports from our Consuls at Boston, Portland, and New-York, on the subject of the kidnapping of Irishmen who had been induced to go to the United States on various pleas. These reports agreed in the main with the information which the public had been able to derive from the newspapers. At Portland 87 and at Boston 102 British subjects had, it appeared, been kidnapped. Those persons had been tempted under various pretences to leave Ireland, and, on arriving in the United States, were actually imprisoned for some time, kept without sufficient food, and then plied with whisky. When in a state of intoxication they were prevailed upon to enter the army of the United States. Lord Lyons had already made a report on the subject to Her Majesty's Government. As soon as the Government received information of what had taken place at New-York, instructions were sent to Lord Lyons to make inquiry and to ask for redress; and further, to call on the United States Government in future to protect British subjects who might be induced, under false pretences, to proceed to the United States. He trusted soon to receive from Lord Lyons an account of what he had been able to do in the case of the persons who had been so ill-used at New-York. [Hear, hear.]

THE MERSEY RAMS.

Sir L. Palk called attention to a rule obtained for a commission to examine the Pacha of Egypt and other witnesses at Cairo, to obtain evidence against the steam rams detained at Birkenhead, and asked how long the investigation was likely to take, and the probable expense, and also whether the trial of the Birkenhead iron-clads should be postponed from May next until this information be obtained, and why the rule was not applied for when the vessels were first seized.

The Attorney-General replied that the commission was returnable on the 12th of May, which was an earlier period than that at which the trial could take place. The Crown would proceed with the case with all possible dispatch, whether the commission had returned or not. With regard to the expense, all he could say was, that the Crown had adopted the least costly proceedings. The rule was not applied for when the vessels were seized, because the Crown was not prepared to go to trial.

THE DANISH WAR.

The Danish question was debated, and Lord Palmerston predicted satisfactory results from the conference. Prussia was strongly denounced for having bombarded Sonderburg without previous notice.

AMERICAN TOPICS.

THE KEARSAGE ENLISTMENTS.

The Captain of the United States steamer Kearsage had addressed a letter to the Marquis of Clanricarde, relative to some remarks which his lordship made in the debate in the House of Lords on the 5th inst. The Captain denies that he enlisted any men, and says that the Kearsage has more than her complement, that the frequent applications of the Consuls of the United States to send American seamen to her have all been met by a refusal, and that many of the Royal marines at Deal, and sailors at every port touched at in the United Kingdom, have offered themselves in numbers, and have all been refused enlistments.

THE REBEL COTTON SCHEME.

The London Times in its City Article says, it has been understood for some months past that a proposal for the redemption of the Confederate loan, by the realization of cotton, had been submitted to the authorities at Richmond, who had opposed its main features, and was anxious to meet the bondholders in the proposition, having ample cotton already on hand to liquidate the whole of the loan. The Confederate Government accordingly referred the matter to their financial agent in Europe, together with plans which, it is alleged, are now in process of being perfected.

The following are the particulars of the scheme:

Atlantic Trading Company (limited.) Capital £200,000, in £100 shares, with power of increasing to £500,000 sterling.

Prospectus.—The Atlantic Trading Company (limited) has been formed for the purchase of first-class paddle-wheel steamers of light draft, great speed, and an average capacity of 800 bales of cotton which form the basis of the business to be transacted. It is intended to employ the steamers in trading with ports in the Confederate States, and participating in the large profits attendant on this business. The practical experience in the trade enjoyed by the promoters affords a guarantee of success, and they are enabled to offer the additional advantage of trading with open ports, where a full supply of the finer descriptions of cotton is obtainable, for which the light draft of the steamers is peculiarly adapted. Arrangements are being perfected with C. J. M'Rae, Esq., agent of the Confederate States, to carry in merchandise, and to bring out on the return voyage full cargoes of cotton in exchange for supplies, or for bonds of C. S. Cotton Loan. The first steamer will be dispatched in April, the second and third in May, the fourth in June, and the fifth in July. The vessels are in the hands of builders of celebrity, the materials of the best description, with all the modern improvements in the machinery and boilers which experience suggests, with a guaranteed speed, loaded, of 17½ statute miles per hour. The following sketch of account shows the amount of capital required and probable results: Estimate—Five paddle steamers, £125,000; outfits, £10,000; appropriation for Cotton Loan bonds or (and) merchandise, £40,000; reserved for additional steamers, £25,000; total, £200,000. Results of two successful trips; 8,000 bales of cotton, 450 ℔s. each, sold in Liverpool to net 2s. ⅌ ℔., free of all charges and commissions, £360,000; freight earned by steamers between neutral port and Confederacy, say £5,000 per voyage—£50,000—£410,000; less working expenses between neutral port and Confederacy, £30,000—Total—£380,000. Allowing, as above, for only two successful trips of each vessel, the profits realized will amount to £180,000. This calculation, however, may be considered the least favorable one that should be taken. The life of vessels of the class to be employed by the company may be computed as worth five trips each, with the following result: 20,000 bales cotton net in Liverpool, £900,000; freight earned between neutral ports and Confederacy, £125,000; less working expenses, five steamers, each five trips between neutral ports and Confederacy, 25 trips, at £3,000., £75,000; cost of steamers, outfit, merchandise, cotton loan, &c., £200,000; profit, £750,000.

LOSS OF A BLOCKADE-RUNNER.

The new steamer Matilda, stated to have been built at Glasgow for the Confederates and bound from Cardiff for a rebel port, with iron, steel, &c., was totally lost off Lundy Island. The crew was saved. Among them was Major Pearson, of the rebel artillery.

The Western Daily Press, of the 6th says:

"On Monday several people paid a visit to the docks at Cardiff to make an exterior inspection of a splendid clipper-built vessel lying in the East Dock. She is the largest vessel that has entered the dock, and will carry away more than 2,000 tons of coal, which is to form her cargo. She is built very sharp, and is intended for speed as well as carrying a cargo. She has four times run the blockade with success, and there is very little doubt she is intended for another trip of the same kind, her destination being, it is said, the West Indies.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lord Ashburton has retired from the firm of Baring Brothers.

The steamer Hammonia had been purchased as a reinforcement for the Canadian line, which she enters under the name of the Belgian. She left Southampton for Liverpool on the 7th, and the gun fired on board at her departure, exploded, killing the gunner.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH CABLE.

Messrs. Glass, Elliot & Co., of London, have purchased the entire works of the Gutta Percha Company, and formed a new company under the name of the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company, with a capital of £1,000,000, for the purpose of making and maintaining telegraph lines of communication, both submarine and on land, in every part of the world. The new company are to carry out Messrs. Glass, Elliot & Co.'s contract with the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company to manufacture and lay down, in the Summer of 1865, the cable between Ireland and Newfoundland.

THE DANISH WAR.

The bombardment of Sonderburg was recommenced on the 8th, with extraordinary violence, and upon the left wing of the Danes the Prussians were within 1,500 yards of the Danish intrenchments.

The bombardment of Duppel was vigorously sustained during the 7th inst.

The Prussians had finished their second parallel.

The assembling of the Dano-German Conference remained fixed for the 12th of April, and unless some diplomatic obstacle should intervene, it was expected to be opened in London on that day. It was still uncertain whether the Germanic Diet would have appointed its representative by that date. It was reported that Baron Von Busst or Herr Von Der Pfordten would represent the Diet.

M. Drouyn De L'Huys, in a dispatch to the French Minister in London, dated 20th of March, assenting to the conference, suggests that nothing would be more natural, in default of a course unanimously accepted, than to take as a basis the wish of the populations. La France says that the British Government is more inclined toward these views of France.

An assembly of Holstein notables, which was to have been held on the 8th at Flensburg, was prohibited by the Austro-Prussian Commissioners.

The Dutch steamer Kewbrandt, from Stettin to Amsterdam, has been captured by a Danish man-of-war and taken to Copenhagen.

The Emperor of Austria has allowed the formation of a corps of 6,000 volunteers and 300 sailors for the Empire of Mexico.

The Swedish loan was issued this afternoon at 92½.

Berlin, Friday, April 8.

The semi-official Nord-Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of to-day publishes an article upon what it terms the "insinuations" of the English press that Sonderborg, being an open town, had been bombarded by the Prussians. The article draws attention to the fact that Sonderborg has been employed by the Danes themselves as a fortified place, and has been treated accordingly.

GARIBALDI.

Garibaldi remained the guest of Mr. Seely, M. P., at the Isle of Wight, where he had been visited by Mazzini and other men of note. He would enter London on the 11th April, and preparations were making to give him a hearty reception. It is said that the scene promises to be almost without a parallel. The Common Council of London had agreed to confer upon the General the freedom of the City of London. There were only two dissentient votes. Lord Palmerston will entertain Garibaldi at a banquet at Cambridge House, and a grand banquet was also being organized at the Reform Club.

GARIBALDI AT THE ISLE OF WIGHT.

The Mayor of Newport, at Garibaldi's public reception, presented an address couched in feeling terms to which the General responded thus:

"I thank you gratefully for your kind and generous reception. I shall be grateful all my life."

He spoke with great emotion, and said only these few words.

Immediately afterward the company sat down to the banquet. Afterward the Mayor gave the "Queen." Garibaldi drank her Majesty's health, and joined in the "hip-hip-hurrahs" of Mr. Pittis in cheering her Majesty. Guerzoni drank with smiling wonder the toasts given with all the exuberant loyalty of Newport. The General took a frank and cordial part. The rifle band played "God save the Queen." After the toast of the "Prince and Princess of Wales," the Mayor gave "The Health of Garibaldi, Italy's proud and honored General." He should respect the General's wish to pass through England a witness of her peaceful strength, and not to excite tumults. He should not allude to that agitation of public opinion he had also been too familiar with. He praised Garibaldi's unselfish and necessary career of action, his abnegation and self-sacrifice. The mayor spoke feelingly and eloquently. He called for hearty cheers for the General. Mr. Pittis was once more distinguished for his vigorous fusing of stentorian hip-hips. The General did not reply, not understanding the English requirements. Mr. Rolt Pinnock, the mover of the address to the General, proposed the health of Mr. Seely, M. P., for his welcome to Garibaldi. Mr. Seely had added gratitude to esteem by bringing Garibaldi to honor Newport.

Mr. Seely, M. P., acknowledged the honor done him. It was owing to Garibaldi, the greatest man of this or any other age. There had been men as brave, as successful, as good, but never one who united all his qualities. Mr. Seely ended by proposing the health of the Mayor.

FRANCE.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times is assured that a very friendly understanding, instead of the coldness which has prevailed since the affair of the Congress, now exists between the Governments of France and England. The Paris Bourse on the 8th, was firmer. Rentes closed at 66f 15c.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

It is confirmed that all matters relating to the acceptance of the Mexican Crown by the Archduke Maximilian had been satisfactorily settled. The latter left Vienna on the 8th for Miramar, where he would receive the Mexican deputation on Sunday, the 10th inst., and accept the Imperial Crown of Mexico. The new Emperor would take his departure for Mexico on the evening of the 11th or the morning of the 12th April.

It is stated that the terms to be proposed to the Mexican bondholders will be more favorable than was at first contemplated.

AUSTRIA.

The Dalmatian Diet was dissolved on the 8th by an Imperial resolution, on account of the party intrigues and attacks on the Government which have occurred

THE OUTBREAK IN HUNGARY.

A letter from Vienna says that the Hungarian preparations for an outbreak were much more formidable than are commonly supposed. About 5,000 guns have recently been seized in Hungary, and it is believed that large quantities of arms have passed through Vienna to Pesth. Three immense casks, purporting to contain sugar, were seized by Austrian soldiers on the Danube, and found to contain fire-arms.

THE CITY OF NEW-YORK.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS TO RAISE HER.

The Board of Trade had directed an official inquiry to be made into the accident to the City of New-York steamer on Daunt's Rock. Attempts to float the vessel were commenced on the 7th, but proved ineffective. They were renewed on the 8th with a like result.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

The funds on the 8th were steadily maintained. Consols closed at 91⅛@¼ for Money.

The discount demand at the Bank was of an average character.

The market for Bank Shares continued active, but devoid of excitement.

Baring Bros. & Co. quote Bar Silver at 5s. 1⅞d.; Dollars, 5s. 3⅛d.; Eagles, 76s. 4d. The Bank had lost £546-756 in bullion during the week. There was no abatement in the introduction of new joint stock projects; on the contrary, schemes of great magnitude were started daily. The Stock Exchange Committee had resolved that no transactions effected in the shares of new companies prior to allotment would be officially recognized in future.

American Securities.—Baring Bros. & Co. say: "United States Securities remain almost without any business, and without variation in prices. Some 5,20 Bonds have been sold at 61½."

LIVERPOOL PRODUCE MARKETS.

Liverpool, Saturday, April 9—A. M.

Cotton.—The Brokers' Circular says: "The market throughout the past week has been dull, but the demand each day has been to a full average extent, and the trade have bought pretty freely throughout. American descriptions have been freely offered, and prices in the lower qualities have given way ¼d. ⅌ ℔. In Brazils a fair business has been done, but former quotations are barely maintained. Egyptians have been in good request, and prices close firm at last week's rates. The better kinds of Surats are rather in favor of buyers, but the medium and lower grades are fully ½d. ⅌ ℔. easier, and continue very unsalable. Other descriptions are generally at ¼d.@½d. cheaper. Sales of the week, 46,060 bales, including 4,450 to speculators, and 7,270 to exporters. Yesterday, (Friday,) the business was about 6,000 bales, including 2,000 to speculators and exporters. The market closed steadily at the following prices for Middling—(Fair continuing nominal)—Middling Orleans, 26½d.; Mobile, 26¼d.; Uplands, 26d. Stock on hand, 308,640 bales, including 29,590 American. At sea from India, 278,000 bales.

Trade at Manchester.—Yesterday there was rather more inquiry, but little business resulted. The better description of Goods and Yarns are firmer, but for lower qualities prices still favor buyers.

Breadstuffs.—Messrs. Wakefield, Nash & Co., Bigland, Athya & Co., and others report: Flour continues very dull and nominal. Wheat in very limited demand, and partially again rather cheaper. Winter Red, 8s.@8s. 6d. White 9s.@10s. ⅌ 100 ℔s. Corn quiet and unchanged. Mixed, 28s 6d. ⅌ 480 ℔s. White 32s.

Provisions.—Gordon, Bruce & Co., Wakefield, Nash & Co., and others report: Beef continues dull, and to effect sales lower prices have to be taken. Pork also more freely offered, and rather cheaper. Bacon dull and nominal, at 37s.@41s. Cheese rather dearer. Butter steady. Lard inactive, at 43s. 6d.@44s. for prime. Tallow quiet; North American, 40s.@42s.

Produce—The Brokers' Circular reports Ashes in limited demand at 35s.@35s. 6d. for old Pots, and 36s. for new. No sales of Pearls. Sugars have been active and 6d.@1s. dearer—closing quieter but firm. Molasses very firm. Coffee unchanged. Rice inanimate but firm. Bark—Sales of Philadelphia at 7s. 6d. down to 7s. 3d. Linseed active and 9d.@1s. dearer. Cloverseed—Small sales American red at 42s.@44s. Linseed Cakes—Sales of American at £8 11s. 3d.@£8 12s. 6d. Jute unchanged. Fish Oils quiet and unaltered. Linseed Oil very firm at 40s. 6d. in export packages. Resin quiet and unchanged. Spirits of Turpentine in speculative demand at 79s.@85s. for French.

Petroleum—Boult, English & Brandon report a quiet but unchanged market. Small sales of refined at 1s. 9d.@1s. 10d. Crude £15 10s.

LONDON MARKETS.

Messrs. Baring, Bros. & Co. report Breadstuffs quiet at last week's rates. Iron quiet; Rails and Bars, £7 10s.@£7 25s.; Scotch Pigs, 58s. Sugars active, and 1s. 6d. dearer since the announcement of the budget. Tea steady; Common Congou, 1s. ½d.@1s. 1d. Coffee quieter, and good Colony 1s. cheaper. Rice quiet. Linseed 1s. dearer. Linseed Cakes in fair demand, at late rates. Spirits of Turpentine—French 81s., American 90s. Petroleum—Crude £1 10s., Refined 1s 10½d. Fish Oils unchanged. Linseed Oil in demand, and advanced to 39s. Tallow quiet; new Y. C. 41s. 3d. Messrs. Groves & Todd report Provisions generally quiet, but steady. Lard quiet, but fine new wanted. Resin unchanged.

GLASGOW MARKET.

Messrs. John Athya & Co. report a quiet trade in all kinds of Breadstuffs, and without any material change in prices.

ELECTION NEWS.

Oxford.—The Right Hon. E. Cardwell reelected without opposition.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Privy Council was held yesterday at Downing-street.

Her Majesty came to London yesterday, for the purpose of holding a court at Buckingham Palace.

Mr. Cardwell, in his speech at Oxford, said that he thought the Conference on the Danish affairs would lead to a satisfactory result, and strongly urged neutrality in the American war.

Garibaldi visited Portsmouth Dock-yard to-day. He was received by Admiral Seymour and Lord Wm. Paulet, and afterward lunched with the Admiral and his staff.

Placards were issued yesterday by the city police, offering £3,000 reward for information respecting certain cases of gold supposed to have arrived in London from San Francisco, forming part of the £25,000 portion of the treasure in the wreck of the Golden Gate, supposed to have been stolen.

A Polish insurgent detachment had crossed the Prussian frontier into Poland, and had a sanguinary conflict with Russians at Lapinogka.

Maximilian leaves Trieste for Mexico on the 13th.

LATEST COMMERCIAL.

Liverpool, Saturday, April 9—Evening.

Representative Harris Burned in Effigy.

Baltimore, Wednesday, April 20.

The Union men of East Baltimore expressed their indignation for Representative Harris to-night by burning him in effigy.

THE WAR IN LOUISIANA.

Another Battle on the Red River.

THE REBELS BADLY WHIPPED.

Gen. A. J. Smith Takes 2,000 Prisoners and 20 Cannon.

GEN. BANKS' WHOLE FORCE ENGAGED.

An Official Dispatch from Capt. Pennock.

FROM CHICAGO.

Chicago, Wednesday, April 20.

Last evening's Journal publishes extracts from private letters from members of the Chicago Mercantile Battery, dated April 12, to the effect that on the day of the recent disaster to the Thirteenth Army Corps, Gen. A. J. Smith, with the Nineteenth Army Corps, engaged the enemy and defeated them, capturing 2,000 prisoners and 20 cannon.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.

Chicago, Wednesday, April 20.

A letter dated Grand Ecore 11th, from a private in the Chicago Mercantile battery, giving an account of the part taken in the battle, confirms yesterday's dispatch in regard to the disaster to a portion of our forces composing the Red River Expedition.

The letter says, of our whole division, numbering 3,000 men, but 1,000 are left to tell the fearful odds against which they contended. Two regiments of the division were consolidated, and had in all 140 men and seven officers—the highest in rank being a Captain.

The Nineteenth Corps checked the rebels, and held them for about twenty-five minutes, when they were forced to retire, which they did slowly; and as night came on the bloody conflict ended.

The next morning Gen. A. J. Smith came up with his command and relieved Gen. Franklin, and whipped the rebels badly, recaptured 12 guns and took 800 prisoners.

A letter from another private in the same battery says: Our corps (the Thirteenth) is all cut to pieces, and we fell back to the place (Grand Ecore,) five or six miles from the battle-field to reorganize the last twenty-four pieces of artillery, all that were in the fight.

This letter says that Gen. Smith captured 2,000 prisoners and 36 guns in the fight on the 9th.

Still another letter says: We get all sorts of reports from the front. The latest is that Gen. Smith whipped the rebels, taking 2,000 prisoners and 18 guns,

The expedition is no doubt broken up, and our troops falling back.

Gen. Banks is mentioned as having been on the field on the 8th.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, Wednesday, April 20.

The following dispatch was received at the Navy Department at noon to-day:

Cairo, Ill., April 19, 1864.

Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy:

I have received private letters from Red River, one dated Grand Ecore, La., April 10, and one dated Alexandria, April 12, stating that the army, under Gen. Banks met with reverses on the 8th inst. near Mansfield. Our army fell back, and on the next day the rebels attacked them and were handsomely whipped. The loss is heavy on both sides.

The Admiral (Porter), when last heard from, was about forty miles above Grand Ecore. The river was low.

(Signed,) A. M. PENNOCK, Fleet Captain.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

Washington, Wednesday, April 20.

The military authorities here have received the following dispatch, dated Cairo, last night:

"Two letters arrived here this afternoon, both from naval officers; one from Grand Ecore, half way between Natchitoches and Shreveport, dated the 10th; the other from Alexandria, dated the 12th inst.

The battle was near the place first named.

Smith appears to have been worsted, also the Thirteenth Corps, which came to his aid. Franklin took part, and the enemy were beaten."

NEWS VIA CAIRO.

Cairo, Wednesday, April 20.

Informatian obtained from a reliable source confirms the statements of the Chicago Journal's Red River letter of the 10th instant, concerning the battle of Pleasant Hill, on the 8th, that account being mainly correct. Our loss, however, was greater than is therein stated. The fight wound up in the enemy being handsomely whipped, and driven from the field with heavy loss.

THE WAR IN KENTUCKY.

The Rebels Defeated at Paintsville and Half Mountain.

FROM CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Wednesday, April 20.

A dispatch to the Commercial from Catlettsburgh, Ky., dated the 19th inst., says:

Capt. Patrick has arrived here with over 100 prisoners, captured at the battles of Paintsville and Half Mountain, on the Licking River.

Hodge's rebel brigade attacked Col. Gillespie's force at Paintsville on Tuesday, but was repulsed.

Gillespie pursued the retreating rebels with 800 men of the Fourteenth and Thirty-ninth Kentucky, and surprised them on the 14th inst., in camp, at Half Mountain, capturing 70 prisoners, 200 horses, 400 saddles, 300 stand of small arms, and all their camp equipage.

Eighty-five rebels were killed and wounded.

A large amount of stolen property was recovered and returned to the citizens.

A rebel wagon train was also captured and burned.

Our loss was one killed and four wounded.

The rebels were commanded by Cols. Clay, Prentice, May and Johnson.

Col. Clay is among the prisoners.

FROM LOUISVILLE, KY.

Louisville, Ky., Tuesday, April 19.

Rev. Calvin Fairbanks, who was implicated with Delia Webster in enticing slaves from Kentucky, several years since, and who had served twelve of a sentence of fifteen years in the Frankfort Penitentiary, was pardoned by Lieut.-Gov. Jacobs, while performing executive duties during the Gov. Bramlette's absence from the State.

The steamer Liberty, No. 2, on her upward trip from Memphis on Sunday, at midnight, was fired into by guerrillas on the Kentucky shore, opposite Shawneetown. The boat received 150 shots. Some of the shots passed through the cabin, where the passengers were asleep in their berths. No one was injured, fortunately.

Hugh Coshe, a member of the Kentucky Legislature, died here to-day.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES.

Washington, Wednesday, April 20.

LONGSTREET HAS JOINED LEE.

Positive information has been received at headquarters that the main body of Longstreet's veterans have succeeded in effecting a junction with Lee. Longstreet carried to East Tennessee 18,000 men, but returned with less than 12,000. Scouts just returned from within the enemy's lines report that troops from Joe Johnston's army and from Charleston are arriving at Gordonsville. Rebel conscripts are coming in at the rate of a thousand a day.

SUMMARY TRIALS BY MILITARY COMMISSION.

The Senate Military Committee had under consideration, to-day, a bill proposed by Judge Advocate Holt, conferring upon the commanding officers in the field the power to try by military commission, instead of courts-martial, persons accused of crime against military law, and to execute without delay parties found guilty. The Committee authorized their Chairman to report against the bill.

NOMINATIONS REFERRED BACK.

The Senate to-day in executive session, referred back to the President the six nominations of Brigadiers from the Quartermaster's Department, with inquiry what vacancies they are expected to fill, &c. The Senate is averse to confirming the appointments.

ARRIVAL OF GEN. SHEPLEY.

Gen. Shepley arrived here this evening from New-Orleans. He brings important dispatches to the War Department from Gen. Banks relating to army operations in Texas.

Gen. Dana also arrived here this evening. He will probably be assigned to a command in one of the Eastern Departments.

THE NATIONAL BANK BILL.

The Senate Finance Committee had under consideration, to-day, the National Bank Bill. Several representatives of State banks were before it in opposition to the measure. The committe will probably report the bill without amendment, in accordance with the wishes of Secretary Chase.

PERSONAL.

Gen. Grant to-morrow bids adieu to his family, who go West. He will leave for the front in the first train in the morning. Gen. Prince has been assigned to the command of the Cairo and Paducah district.

DISMISSED THE SERVICE.

Capt. H. B. Todd, First New-York Cavalry, late Provost-Marshal of this District, has been sentenced by Court-martial to be dismissed the service, and the sentence has been approved by the President.

THE NAVY-YARD QUESTION.

The interminable Navy-yard question was to-day again before the Senate Naval Committee. Owing to the absence of some members of the committee, the matter was postponed until next meeting.

SIGNIFICANT SUSPENSION.

Mail communication northward from the Army of the Potomac was suspended to-day.

DESERTERS SENT NORTH.

About forty deserters from the rebel army in Virginia were sent North to-day. They took the oath.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Wednesday, April 20,

CONFIRMATIONS.

The Senate, to-day, confirmed the following nominations:

Brig.-Gen. James B. Stedman, U. S. Volunteers, to be Major-General; Col. Alexander Sholer, Sixty-fifth New-York Volunteers, to be Brigadier-General from May 26, 1863; Col. Jasper A. Maltby, of the Forty-fifth Illinois, to be Brigadier-General from August 4, 1863; Joseph J. Bartlett, of New-York, to be Brigadier-General from April 2, 1864; Col. Joshua T. Owen, of the Sixty-ninth Pennsylvania, to be Brigadier-General from April 2, 1864.

John M. Muscott and John O. Mott, of New-York, were confirmed as additional Paymasters, and the following as Assistant Adjutant-Generals, namely:

First Lieut. Wm. R. Driver, of the Nineteenth Massachusetts; First Lieut. Charles Dodd, First New-Jersey; First Lieut. James A. Layler, Fifth Vermont; First Lieut. E. A. Dane, Eighth Illinois; Capt. Frank H. Cowdrey, Ninety-fifth New York; Capt. John D. Fisk, One Hundred and Twenty-first New York; Capt. James W. Latta, One Hundred and Nineteenth Pennsylvania; Capt. Charles H. Miller, Sixteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry; Sergt. Augustin F. Hayden, Sixth New-York Cavalry; Capt. E. W. Andrews, Sixth New-York Artillery.

Joseph J. Stewart, to be Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of Maryland.

Thomas A. Osborne, to be Marshal of the United States for the District of Kansas.

John Wilson, to be Medical Inspector in the Army of the United States, with rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.

Capt. Elisha H. Luddington, to be Assistant Inspector, with rank of Major.

Commander David McDougal, to be Captain in the navy, vice Capt. S. C. Rowan, promoted; Assistant Paymaster Wm. W. Williams, to be Paymaster, vice T. Marston Taylor, resigned.

FROM THE ARMY.

Advices from the Army of the Potomac state that the Ninety-third New-York, Col. Crocker, commanding, have been relieved as guard at headquarters of the army, and ordered to report to Gen. Birney, who commands the Third Division, Second Corps. The Sixty-eighth Pennsylvania take their place at headquarters.

The weather is quite cold, the thermometer standing at 42° this morning. The snow still lies on the Blue Ridge.

REPORTS OF THE WAR COMMITTEE.

Requests are daily received by the Committee on the Conduct of the War for their printed reports, much to their annoyance, as the edition has long ago been exhausted.

THE ARTILLERY REGIMENTS.

The Secretary of War has ordered that the new regiments of heavy artillery that may be organized and filled up to the legal standard of 1,738 officers and men, within the period of twenty days from this date, will be received and credited. If regiments are not full, on or before the 10th day of May, the recruits will be put into other artillery or infantry organizations. This order will not postpone the draft, but such troops as may be raised prior to the draft will be deducted from the quotas for draft.

DISPOSITION OF PRIZE CASES.

The Secretary of the Navy sent to the House, to-day, the report of the Solicitor of the Treasury relative to the disposition of prize cases. The report, which is very voluminous, details the history of the investigation implicating counsel for the captors of the prize Anne, the officers of the District Court, and other persons, alleged to be guilty of irregularities in the custody and disposition of prize property and the proceeds thereof. The Solicitor refrains from passing any judgment upon the act of the two gentlemen, one in a judicial and the other in a legislative position, whose conduct has been the subject of some animadversion on the part of witnesses and counsel, and concludes that, with regard to the general results of the investigation, the Navy Department and the country will form their own judgment. But for his own part, he thinks it would have been unreasonable to expect public officers to display more ability, zeal or capacity than have been exhibited by those connected with these prize proceedings; and that, although there have been delays and irregularities, yet, on the whole, these proceedings will compare favorably in point of integrity, economy, and dispatch, with like proceedings in any country at any time.

THE TEN-FORTY LOAN.

The subscriptions to the 10-40 loan, as reported at the Treasury to-day, amounted to $1,120,000.

THE INDIANS.

Maj. Whipple, in an official dispatch, dated Fort Whipple, Arizona, says: "The people of this section are very much excited with regard to the Indian disturbances; so much so, that during a visit to the mines I noticed men working with arms beside them, and it is not considered safe to leave their dwellings without them. Unless immediate steps are taken to quell these Indians, it will be of serious detriment to the Territory.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, Wednesday, April 20.

A CENSUS BY STATES IN 1865.

Mr. Harris, of New-York, (Union,) introduced a joint resolution requesting the State Legislatures to cause a census of industrial interests to be taken in June, 1865, and to send a copy of the original returns to the Secretary of the Interior, who is directed to furnish the necessary schedules and instructions for that purpose.

DISTRICT MATTERS.

On motion of Mr. Morrill, of Maine, (Union,) it was ordered that a vote on the bill to amend the act of 1820, incorporating the inhabitants of Washington City be reconsidered.

The Vice-President submitted a letter from the Secretary of the Interior, from which it appears that the allowances of the Marshal of the District of Columbia, during the year 1863, for the feed of prisoners in the jail amounted to $32,763, and the milage allowed for transporting convicts to the Albany penitentiary has been $8,900.

AN ADVERSE AND A FAVORABLE REPORT.

Mr. Trumbull, of Illinois, (Union,) from the Judiciary Committee, reported adversely on Mr. Davis' bill prohibiting trials by court-martial of civilians, and favorably on the bill to amend the act to punish frauds on the Treasury.

GEN. SLOUGH'S CONDUCT AT ALEXANDRIA.

Mr. Chandler, of Michigan, (Union,) from the Committee on the Conduct of the War, who was instructed to inquire into the military administration of Gen. Slough at Alexandria, Va., made a report, accompanied by voluminous testimony, Ordered to be printed.

AID TO KANSAS RAILROADS.

Mr. Lane, of Kansas, (Union,) called up the bill making an additional grant of lands to the State of Kansas to aid in the construction of railroad and telegraph lines.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Lane, requiring the road from Leavenworth to go by way of Lawrence to Emporia and to carry one line to Fort Riley, was adopted, and the bill was passed.

CLASSIFICATION OF PAYMASTERS' CLERKS.

Mr. Hale, of New-Hampshire, (Union,) from the Naval Committee, reported a bill for the classification of Paymasters' clerks, which proposed to give $1,200 to clerks of stations in Boston, New-York, Philadelphia and Washington; $1,000 to all others; also, $1,200 to Inspectors' clerks in the above places, and $1,000 to all others. The same classification is made for clerks of receiving-ships, clerks in second-class ships receiving $800, and in third class $700.

CONCERNING GOVERNMENT OFFICERS AND AGENTS.

Mr. Wilson, of Massachusetts, (Union,) introduced a bill to amend section eight of an act entitled an Act to establish a Treasury Department. This bill forbids Government officers and agents from purchasing lands sold under the Confiscation Act. It was referred to the Committee on Finance.

A COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE.

Mr. Wilson called up the subject of appointing a Committee of Conference to meet the House Committee.

Mr. Wilkinson, of Minnesota, (Union,) replied to the remarks of Mr. Trumbull yesterday. He said the Senator had sneered at the proposition, which was calculated to destroy the harmony of the people of the North. We had now in our army two hundred thousand, more or less, brave black men, fighting as earnestly for the suppression of the rebellion as any of the men from Illinois. And yet the Senator wants a discrimination made against this class, in a bill to define the qualifications of voters in Montana. He (Wilkinson) was opposed any longer to the Pro-Slavery influence which had so long prevailed in the councils of the nation, and seemed now to be attempted to be conciliated by some of the Republican members. We are fighting against the very element which has so long exercised an evil power and influence in this country. He did not know whether negroes would vote in Montana or not. His amendment to the House bill as adopted by the Senate, did not relate to who should vote in Montana, but as to the point that Congress should no longer legislate in the interests of Slavery. The sooner the Senate meets the issue before it the better.

THE REPEAL OF THE FUGITIVE-SLAVE LAW.

The Senate then proceeded to the consideration of the bill repealing the Fugitive-Slave Law.

Mr. Foster said that in his opinion the law of 1850 was a most iniquitous one; and he would cheerfully vote for its repeal. It was passed at a period of high political excitement. He voted for the amendment of Mr. Sherman yesterday, because he had high authority for doing so. He contended that Roger Sherman and Oliver Ellsworth were, in 1793, in favor of the rendition of fugitive slaves, and read long extracts from the records of the Congress of 1793 to prove it. Though he could not show the aye and noe vote in which their names were recorded, the brief record showed their position on the constitutionality and justice of the law. The Senate and House at that time voted for it. In the House but seven votes were recorded against it. George Washington was the President. Shall we, after seventy years have passed, deny to these men that intelligence which we claim to possess? Who are we in this day to say that wisdom has come us to unknown to our fathers? Who of us in this Senate are willing to institute a comparison between ourselves and the men of 1793? He for one would shrink from a comparison with such men as Roger Sherman and Oliver Ellsworth, and their compeers. Was it an argument to be raised that foreign nations would be pleased by the passage of this bill in its original form? That was not an argument at any time, and much less at the present time. It was useless for us to shut our eyes to the fact that the great commercial nations of Europe had for years past been looking upon our country with disfavor. The Senator said Slavery was the cause. Does not Slavery exist in the South, and have not several of the foreign Powers indirectly aided the South in her unholy rebellion? The manner in which we have been treated by professedly neutral Governments, makes the blood of every American citizen boil in his veins, and will cause us one day to call for a balancing of the account that it may be closed.

Mr. Sumner, of Massachusetts, (Union,) said he wished to secure the good opinion of our friends abroad, while the Senator seemed to be willing to repel it.

Mr. Brown, of Wisconsin, (Union,) contended that the amendment of Mr. Sherman made the bill tantamount to the act of 1793. It was a virtual restatement of that act as far as the Senate could restate it. He did not believe it was the duty of Congress to pass any such act, or go beyond the plain letter of the Constitution, but stand by that great bulwark of freedom, which secured to all a trial by jury. After seventy years of struggle for freedom, we were now about to return to the starting-point.

Mr. Willey, of West Virginia, (Union,) obtained the floor.

On motion of Mr. Lane, of Kansas, the Senate went into Executive Session, and shortly thereafter adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Washington, Wednesday, April 20.

THE INTERNAL TAX BILL.

The House immediately went into Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, (Union,) in the Chair, and resumed the consideration of the Internal Revenue Bill.

The general debate has been closed.

Therefore, discussion will only be permitted on amendments of five minutes' speeches.

Among the amendments, some of which are merely verbal, is the number of revenue agents to be appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury to aid in the prevention, detection and punishment of frauds on the internal revenue. This number is increased from three to five.

Mr. Norton, of Illinois, (Union,) offered an amendment, which was adopted, that if any Assessor shall demand or receive, directly or indirectly, from any Deputy Assessor, as a condition of his appointment to or continuance in office, any portion of the compensation herein allowed, such Assessor so offering shall be summarily dismissed from office, and liable to a fine of not less than fifty dollars on conviction of the offence.

An amendment was adopted that the time of sale of real estate to satisfy duties shall not be less than twenty nor more than forty days from the date of giving notice.

The Committee acted on forty-two sections of the general provisions of the bill, the amendments being mainly of a verbal character.

There was no debate, but merely explanations.

The House at 4½ o'clock took a recess till 7 o'clock.

Remarkable History of a Military Company.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Company D, of the Forty-seventh Pennsylvania Regiment, a portion of which recently spent some time at the Soldiers' Rest in our City, on their way to Key West, can show the following record.

There are in the company the following men:

William Powell, John Powell, Andrew Powell, Solomon Powell, Daniel Powell.	Four brothers and a cousin.
John Brady, William Brady, Ackinson Brady, Leonard Brady, Samuel Brady.	All brothers.
Jacob Baltzer, George Baltzer, Benjamin Baltzer,	Brothers.
George Krosler, Wm. Krosler, Jesse Krosler,	Brothers.
Edward Harper, Martin Harper, George Harper.	Brothers and Brothers-in-law of the Captain.
Jesse Shaffer, Benjamin Shaffer, Wm. Shaffer.	Two brothers and a cousin.
Wilson Tag, James Tag, Richard Tag.	Father and two sons: the father served in the Mexican War.
John Clay, George Clay, Jacob Charles, Eli Charles, John Reynolds, Jesse Reynolds, John Vance, Jonathan Vance, John Anthony, Benjamin Anthony, William Vertig, Franklin Vertig,	Six pairs of brothers
Isaac Baldwin, Cyrus Taylor.	Stepbrothers.

These men all hail from Perry County, Pennsylvania. They are mainly of the old Holland stock, and lived within a circuit of fifteen miles. They are all reënlisted men but two or three.

The company has been out over two years, most of the time at the extreme Southern posts. During eighteen months they lost but one man by sickness. They kept up strict sanitary regulations, commuted their rations of salt meat for fresh meat and vegetables, and saved by the operation from one hundred to one hundred and thirty dollars a month, with which they made a company fund, appointing the Captain treasurer, and out of which whatever knick-knacks were needed could be purchased. They always ate at a table, which they fixed with cross sticks, and had their food served from large bowls, each man having his place, as at home, which no one else was allowed to occupy. While the men were here they showed that they were sober, cheerful, intelligent men, who had put their hearts into their work, and did not count any privations or sacrifices as too great, if only the life of the country might be thereby maintained. During the whole term of their service, they have not had a man court-martialed.

They are commanded by Capt. HENRY D. WOODRUFF, a native of Binghamton, in this State, but long a resident of Pennsylvania. Their First Lieutenant is S. OUCHMUTY, Second Lieutenant, GEORGE STROOP.

If any company can show a more striking record, it would be very interesting to know it.

Yours, &c., C.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE CHENANGO DISASTER.

Continuation of the Coroner's Investigation—Testimony of Mr. Quintard of the Morgan Iron Works.

The investigation in the case of the boiler explosion on the United States steamer Chenango, was continued before Coroner NORRIS and jury, yesterday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock. The following evidence was elicited:

David P. Goodhue, sworn.—Am Acting Assistant Surgeon in the United States navy, and attached to the ship Chenango; I was on board when the accident occurred; saw Engineers Cahill and Murray after the accident; had no conversation with them in regard to the condition of the engine and boiler; I never conversed with them about the safety of the boilers; there were 35 men scalded as far as I know; up to the 19th inst., there had been 24 deaths; the deaths were caused by being scalded; know nothing in regard to the explosion or its causes; the habits of the engineers, as far as I had seen, were good; they were strictly temperate.

George W. Quintard sworn: I am the proprietor of the Morgan Iron Works, and had the contract for building the boilers of the Chenango from the Bureau of Steam Engineering of the Navy Department; Benjamin F. Isherwood is Chief of that Bureau; I was furnished with the specifications for plans, iron, &c.; the schedule presented shows the quality of iron, and the quantity used in the construction of the boilers; I have every reason to believe that the order I gave for the iron was faithfully executed; think that Wallace & Buckley furnished the iron, but am not sure; the trade-marks will show; I gave orders that the boilers be construsted strictly in accordance with the specifications; I think the stays were made of Ulster iron; do not know from whom it was purchased; the boilers were properly tested after being completed at sixty pounds hydraulic pressure; there is no certificate to that effect; we never take a certificate; the Government engineer was present when the boilers were tested; S. Wilkins Craig is the Government engineer; I have no idea what caused the explosion; heard of no complaints in reference to the boilers leaking; Mr. Cahill told me a few days before he went to sea that the boilers were very good and with some little caulking would be tight; he said he would have this done at the Navy-yard; the boilers had steam on for ninety-six hours previous to leaving my place, and were accepted by the Government engineer; John Walker was foreman of the boiler shop at the time the boilers of the Chenango were constructed; the boilers are Martin's patent; I am not competent to give an opinion as to the difference between the Martin and Montgomery boiler; the acceptance of the boilers by the Government relieves me from all responsibility.

George B. Mott sworn: Am acting ensign in the United States Navy, and belong to the steamer Chenango; was on board at the time of the explosion; had a conversation with Engineer Murray after leaving the Navy-yard; the effect of his statement was that the boilers were not fit to go to sea; he told me repeatedly that they had sent to the Morgan Iron Works to have them repaired, but that they sent no one over; he spoke particularly of the port boiler; I asked him what he would do if he was pursuing a prize; he said he would do the best he could, but that they had a very poor pair of kettles on board; he was afraid they would not stand much: gave me no reasons for his assertions; always spoke of the boilers as if he was afraid of them; Mr. Cahill was very guarded in his remarks, but the inference I drew from his conversations was that he had no good opinion of the boilers.

John Walker sworn; Reside at No. 1,162 Broadway, New-York; was employed as foreman of the boiler shop of the Morgan Iron Works up to the fifteenth of June: superintended the building of the boilers of the Chenango up to that time; the boilers when I left were in a course of perfect construction; I worked from the drawings as they came from the shop; they were traced from Government drawings; the lugs on the sides of the boiler were riveted when I left; the T iron was on; made it according to the drawings, three and a half by three and a half inches; it was riveted every two and a half inches, zigzag across the weld; the brace holes from the T holes were one-fourth inch in diameter and ten inches apart; the bar included the curve about twenty-four and twenty-five feet in length; there were eight bars; the boiler was ten feet nine inches in depth; there were but two bars running to each tube box, making eight in all on the T rail, and sixty-four up and down the boiler; the sizes of the upright bars were given to me; the size of the rivets in the lugs was three-quarters of an inch; the lugs were two inches by five-eighths; a three-quarters hole was punched for the rivets; it was punched cold; the stays were the same size as have always been put in boilers that I have had anything to do with; have built eighteen boilers in all; left five-eighth of an inch space on each side of the stay bar; there were as many stays as in any other boiler; think there was double the strength on the roof than there was on the tube box; this boiler was made the same as the boilers made before; I worked the boiler for sixty pounds cold water pressure to the square inch; I placed the braces every eight inches square on sixty pounds; the flat surface of the boiler contains 13,860 square inches—one-eighth would be 1,732 inches; if every eight inches were braced, it would take 216 braces; this form of boiler will not admit of the ordinary amount of stays, owing to the tube boxes; the plates put into the boilers were good; several imperfect ones were thrown out, but don't know how many; the quality was stamped according to specifications; am not quite sure that the brand was on all the plates; don't remember seeing any cracks caused by riveting; the workmanship about the boilers was good; I have no very good opinion of the Martin boiler in comparison with the other boiler; it requires too many stays, and it is bad to repair; this boiler was made throughout according to specifications of the Government—that is, as long as I had the superintendence of its manufacture; was surprised when I heard of the explosion at twenty-six pounds of steam; should have been astonished if it had exploded at forty or forty-five pounds; the boiler had been tested by hydraulic pressure at sixty pounds.

Adjourned till 7½ o'clock.

Naval Intelligence.

GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATION OF NAVAL FRAUDS.

The Navy Department has appointed a Commission to investigate all the alleged frauds recently perpetrated on the Government in this locality. The commission consists of Col. AUCKERT, well known for his vigilance in detecting army thieves, Mr. WILSON and Mr. MORGAN, both gentlemen of standing and character. They hold sessions daily in this City, and examine all persons who present themselves. Parties likely to possess information on certain matters are summoned to appear before them. Already the testimony taken is voluminous and important. Several officers in service of the Government have been before the Commission. As the inquisition is in the interest of the Department, any one knowing facts which might be of service should notify the gentlemen named of the same.

A DISTINGUISHED OFFICER IN TROUBLE.

Commander TRENCHARD, of the regular navy, who has just returned from a long and tedious search for the Alabama in the Rhode Island, has been ordered before a Court of Inquiry at the Boston Navy-Yard, for the purpose of having investigated some facts in relation to the course pursued by him while on his late cruise. The following officers constitute the Court of Inquiry: Admiral BREESE, Commodore JOHN POPE, Commodore RINGGOLD and HARVEY JEWELL, Esq., Judge Advocate. The court had partially concluded its business yesterday. Capt. TRENCHARD is a native of this City, and is justly esteemed as one of the ablest officers in the service.

REINFORCING FARRAGUT—AN IRON-CLAD FLEET TO SAIL TO-DAY.

Orders have been sent to Boston to send the iron-clad Canonicus to sea. She will leave to-morrow convoyed by the double-ender Osceola. The Saugus is to leave on Monday, and the Tecumseh will probably get away from here on Tuesday. These vessels are to go from Fortress Monroe together, and will constitute the following addition to FARRAGUT's fleet:

	Guns.	Men.	Tons.
Tecumseh	2	90	1,000
Canonicus	2	90	1,000
Saugus	2	90	1,000
Onondaga	4	100	1,250
CONVOYS.
Mattahassett	8	100	974
Osceola	8	100	974
Nereus	8	100	about 900
One steamer	—	—	—
Total	34	570	7,098

This is exclusive of the tow-boats which accompany the fleet. The following are preparing to follow: Tippecano, Catawba, Manhattan, and six or seven wooden vessels.

LEFT.

The Newbern, supply and transport steamer to the North Atlantic Squadron, left yesterday.

The Tax Levy and Proposed Reduction.

The citizens who have been at Albany for the purpose of securing deduction from the Tax Levy, proposed a deduction from the City budget of $2,394,470. On account of common schools a deduction is asked of $250,616 99. This does not diminish the amount required by the Board of Education, but has confessedly got into the Tax Levy by mistake. The mistake rose in this way: The Board of Education made a requisition for $1,787,715 08. The State apportionment to the City was $250,616 99. That is paid to the City by the State Treasury, so that the amount to be raised for this purpose by tax on us was actually $1,537,099 09, yet by the Tax Levy as proposed, we would raise the whole $1,787,715 08. This was evidently an oversight, and was so conceded to be by the Clerk of the Board of Education. It is due to Comptroller BRENNAN to say, that the mistake did not originate with him, but with his predecessors. We were surprised to learn that it had been in the Tax Levy for several years without detection. If there had been no permission to transfer money from one appropriation to another, the error would have been discovered and corrected long ago.

The other principal deductions proposed are $185,000 for salaries; $250,000 for cleaning streets, $100,000 for Belgian pavement, $146,000 for engine houses, and $114,000 for opening Madison-avenue. The Citizens' Committee have been met most courteously by the Legislature and the Committee of the Assembly, who have given them a full hearing, and with the apparent purpose of applying the remedy, where grievances are proven.

Reception of the One Hundred and Third Regiment.

The One Hundred and Third Regiment N. Y. S. V. arrived at the Battery yesterday afternoon, about 3 o'clock. They were received by the Sixth Regiment N. Y. S. T., Col. MASON, Battery B, Fourth N. Y. N. G., Lieut.-Col. DUHL, and the veterans of the One Hundred and Third Regiment, and by them escorted up Broadway to the Park, where they were reviewed; thence up Broadway to Fourteenth-street, through to Sixth-avenue and the Jefferson Market Drill Rooms, where a splendid collation was prepared for them.

Speeches were made by Col. EGGLESFEIN and Lieut.-Col. SNYDER, both formerly of the One Hundred and Third Regiment; also, by Col. MASON, of the Sixth Regiment. The regiment is home on a thirty days' furlough; it is composed of a fine, hearty set of men, and they seemed to enjoy their reception greatly.

A very pleasant incident occurred while at the table in the presentation of a very handsome sword to Lieut. JOHN ELTS, by Capt. WITTNACH, on behalf of Company E, Sixth Regiment.

The Greeley Contempt Case—Sentence of Nixon, &c.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Before Justice Barnard.

The court-room was crowded yesterday by members of the Bar, reporters and speciators, anxious to learn the issue of the Horace Greeley contempt case, the citation in which was returnable yesterday morning. The arrival of Mr. GREELEY was looked for with interest, but he did not appear personally, being represented in court by J. T. WILLIAMS, Esq., his counsel.

The first business before the court was the case of JAMES M. NIXON, convicted of manslaughter in the third degree. District-Attorney HALL moved for judgment upon the prisoner.

On being asked what he had to say why judgment should not be pronounced, NIXON replied it was true that he had unfortunately killed BROWN, but that he had been attacked and abused when unable to defend himself or get away.

His Honor said that the evidence showed both sides had been to blame. Each had used abusive language to the other. The prisoner should have avoided the encounter, and appealed to the protection of the laws. The jury had taken a merciful view of the case. The sentence of the court would be that he be confined in the States Prison for the term of four years.

NIXON having been removed, Judge BARNARD said he believed an order of attachment had been issued against some individual whose name was with the Clerk.

District-Attorney A. OAKEY HALL then rose and read the order to show cause why HORACE GREELEY should not be punished for a contempt, and the return of the Sheriff indorsed upon it showing that he had served the order in the manner required. The Clerk of the Court called

HORACE GREELY.

Mr. WILLIAMS said that he appeared for Mr. GREELEY; that he had entertained some doubts as to the jurisdiction of the court in this matter, but for the present he would waive them, desiring to make a motion to set the proceedings aside on the ground that the court had acquired no jurisdiction over Mr. GREELEY, and that no affidavit had been filed or served with the papers.

In this matter there must be only what the court will take judicial cognizance of, and without affidavits to that effect the court could not know judicially that HORACE GREELEY, was the editor and proprietor of the New-York Tribune.

In reply Mr. HALL stated that he had been requested to act as amicus curiæ and counsel in the matter. He believed the usual practice to be that the party must first appear and then certain interrogatories would be filed and submitted to him, which he might answer or decline to answer on the ground of want of jurisdiction; but the motion now made, in his opinion, was premature.

Mr. WILLIAMS said he thought the matter came up as a criminal contempt, and not as a civil proceeding, and he did not see how at this stage of the case interrogatories could be filed. He thought this was the proper time to make the motion.

Judge BARNARD said it is premature for two reasons: First, because the Prisoner is not now in court; and, second, until the interrogatories are filed, the motion cannot come up. The Clerk will therefore enter an order that interrogatories be filed, and that they be propounded to HORACE GREELEY; and that he be directed to appear and file his answers to them on Monday next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.

Mr. WILLIAMS said he presumed His Honor had unintentionally called Mr. GREELEY the prisoner.

Judge BARNARD said: "Yes, I intended to say defendant."

Mr. WILLIAMS said he still thought that there was no power in the court for this proceeding. Judge BARNARD replied that at the proper time he presumed authority for it, a recent case, would be produced.

The case of ROBERT A. HAINES, indicted for murder, was put off for the Term, and the case of WHITE set down for Tuesday next.

The following is a copy of the order and interrogatories as filed in the Clerk's Office:

In the Matter of Horace Greeley upon an Order to Show Cause why he should not Answer for a Contempt of Court.—It is ordered by the court that the said Horace Greeley, now here appeared by J. T. Williams, Esq., his counsel, answer (and the answer under oath is waived) the following interrogations, and have until Monday next, being the 25th day of April inst., at 11 o'clock A. M., to file answers thereto, and be then heard in this court in defence of the accusation that he published a grossly inaccurate report of the proceedings of this court in the Daily Tribune of April 14, 1864, in the language contained in and recited in interrogatory the first.

Interrogatory the First.—Did you write in manuscript the following matter, which appeared in page 4, in column 2 thereof, in the New-York Daily Tribune of Thursday, April 14, 1864, to wit?

[A judicial outrage. Here follows the article, portions of which contain the alleged contempt.]

Interrogatory Second.—If not, did you write in manuscript any part thereof?

Interrogatory Third.—If not, did you see the same in manuscript or in proof before it was published?

Interrogatory Fourth.—If not, were you or not the responsible editor of the Tribune on the 14th day of April, 1864?

Interrogatory Fifth.—If you did not write or see before publication the said matter, do you know who is the author, or writer, or composer thereof, or did you not know that it was to be published?

Interrogatory Sixth.—If you know the said author or writer, please name him.

Then follows a statement or report of the transactions in court, which were reported and commented on in the Tribune, and a disclaimer from the court of any complaint as to the editorial comments, but only as to what purports to be a report of the proceedings in court.

The court adjourned until Monday.

The Sub-Treasury Forgeries.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

Before Commissioner White.

The examination in the case of John W. Hunter, charged with defrauding the Government, was continued yesterday afternoon. In the absence of Judge Pierrepont, Sidney Webster, Esq., appeared for the accused, and opened the case for the defence in a few eloquent remarks, giving a statement of what he expected to prove by the witnesses for Mr. Hunter, and placed the case before the court and the public in a new light.

He alluded to the circumstances of the arrest of Mr. Hunter; to the significant fact, that the arrest was made on an affidavit by the District Attorney, inspired by Mr. Cisco, who has appeared here as the chief prosecutor; that Mr. Cisco refused to made the affidavit himself or to permit his paying-teller to make it; that the District Attorney had no information in relation to the case which was not in possession of Cisco; that when the District Attorney hesitated to make the affidavit necessary for Hunter's arrest, Mr. Hurlbud, member of Congress, and chairman of an investigating committee now at work in this City, urged that the affidavit be made, and authorized the District Attorney to say that the committee wished Hunter prosecuted. We shall prove before the Commissioner that this cruel and reckless prosecution of an innocent man was inspired and forced on by Mr. Cisco; that he called Mr. Hurlbud to his aid, but that the committee of which he is Chairman never had the matter before them at all, and that Hurlbud never examined or considered the accused's side of the case, neve made inquiry of the numerous men in the Custom-house familiar with Hunter's handwriting. We shall prove that the Marshal, on arresting the accused, was directed by the District-Attorney to seize all books and papers on or about the desk of Hunter, and deliver them not to the lawful, responsible attorney of the United States, but into the hands of the interested prosecutor, Mr. Cisco, to aid in making up the prosecution. Thus much for the contrivances by which the accused was arrested.

In respect to the merits of the case, the accused admits that there is no such firm in this City as Page & Wheeler, or such person as C. Johnson, who are payers of the forged checks. He admits that no money was due to them from the Custom-house. We are willing to concede that whoever made those checks did it with intent to defraud. But we deny that Hunter ever saw the checks, or knew or heard of them til they were sent by Cisco to the Custom-house. Neither the filling up is Hunter's, or the signatures. We shall prove to you, by witnesses who have seen Hunter write almost daily for twenty years, that the checks are not in his handwriting. We shall establish this by the oldest and the youngest officers of the Custom-house.

We shall establish by evidence irresistible, that the writing of the checks is not the natural writing of anybody, but that it is traced and simulated. We shall make the tracing, the painting up of the letters as clear as sun-light. We will show that a man who had free access to Cisco's office, or the Auditor's office, could have found a copy, a pattern, for every word in these forged checks, and more than all, as we have seen by deceiving Cisco in his own signature, that this City is full of men who can forge beyond possibility of detection, by appearance of the writing. The swift swearing of Cisco and his paying teller, who seem to think that the Assistant Treasury has a monopoly of all the accuracy and integrity in the world, will be overwhelmed and disgraced by the mass of witnesses who have seen Mr. Hunter write, and knew that Hunter is as innocent as Cisco, and as incapable of a wrong act.

In respect to the missing leaf in the check-book, we shall produce witnesses who say that, from the appearance of the check-book before it had been handled as much as it has been since, the sheet with numbers from 76 to 85, inclusive, were never bound in the book. We shall satisfy the Commissioner that another check-book furnished by the same stationer, Derham, had the same numbers missing, and that that check-book never was in custody of Hunter; and we shall also prove that the clerk who filled up checks in that book passed the missing numbers in regular course of business, as Hunter did without knowing of the missing numbers. It has already been made clear that the blank checks for these forgeries could have been procured from the stationer, or the binder, or printer.

In respect to the forged check, payable in coin, we shall prove, beyond all cavil, that for eight days prior to its date, which is Dec. 23, 1863, the Collector had exhausted all the coin to his credit in the Sub-Treasury, and that, therefore, Hunter, uniformly in all checks, struck out the words "in coin," and stamped on the check "For drawback and by law receivable for duties." This stamp was equivalent to order to pay in the old "demand notes." The forged coin check has not "in coin" struck out, and has not the stamped words to indicate demand notes, and we have the startling fact for Mr. Cisco and his paying cerk to ponder, that for more than a month the only check of Hunter's paid in coin at the Assistant Treasury was the forged check. The paying teller must have seen that it had not the erasure, and had not the stamp, and must have observed that for many days Hunter had drawn no coin checks, and yet he paid a forgery in coin.

There has been efforts made by the prosecution to show that Hunter deposited in certain banks during the month of January last large sums of money. We will show where every cent came from; that the $500 deposited in Brooklyn Savings' Bank was a transfer from another Savings Bank, and was the accumulation by Mrs. Hunter of the savings of many years for her children, deposited in sums as small as one or two dollars at a time; that the money deposited in the Trust Company was paid him as executor of an estate, and deposited by him in that capacity. In a word, we are prepared, if need be, to show the source from which has come every penny of money Mr. Hunter has had for the last year, and if required we will show where it has gone. So perfect and exact have been the integrity and economy of Mr. Hunter, that we are willing to make full exposition of all his money transactions.

The admission made since the trial by the District Attorney upon the record, that the character of the accused had been, up to the time of the arrest, spotless in public estimation, has made it unnecessary for us to call witnesses to establish his previous good character. If it had not been for the admission we would have proved by the first merchants and bankers of this City a character for honesty and fidelity, equal in every sense to any that can be established for Mr. Cisco, or any of the men who have aided or abetted this prosecution. Mr. Webster then went into the circumstances of detection of the forgeries by Mr. Fred. Ogden, and said that upon such testimony, upon the oaths of so many men, familiar with Hunter's writing, that the forged checks are not in his handwriting, but are traced and simulated, and upon all the facts we shall with perfect confidence ask that the accused be discharged.

Edward W. Dunham, President of Corn Exchange Bank, sworn—Testified that the $3000 deposited in that bank was in a check of a certain firm and immediately drawn against by Mr. Hunter and returned to that firm.

Frederick Ogden sworn—Is a clerk in the New-York Custom-house; has been there for ten years. I drew checks for excessive duties which are to be refunded; there are no check-books exclusively used by Mr. Hunter or exclusively in his charge; used the coin check-book myself in making up the cash account; had constant access to it; other persons have occasion to use it; I receive the paid checks from the Sub-Treasury; when I received these checks I found duplicate number of 380; I took the $5,600 check to Hunter, and told him it was a forgery; I then examined the coin checks, and came across number 116, which I took to Mr. Hunter, and told him it was another forgery; they were taken to the Auditor.

Q.—What was there about No. 380 that arrested your attention and caused you to pronounce it a forgery? A.—The general appearance of the check and the signature, which is stiff, and looks as though it had been painted; number 116 arrested my attention at once the number had been altered; I have charge of one of the check-books—a coin check-book; in that book several leaves are missing, Nos. 71 to 80; these are the same numbers missing in Hunter's check-book; I do not know how they came out; Mr. Hunter never fills up any checks in my book; I have balanced the books up to Jan. 27; since then Mr. Cisco refuses to give me the checks; I applied to Mr. Russell for the remaining checks; he said that he had looked through them, and there were no more forgeries; in my opinion these two checks were neither filled up nor signed by Mr. Hunter.

Nathan B. Morse sworn: Have known Mr. Hunter thirty-four years; have had business relations with him in relation to the Boutwell estate, of which Hunter is executor; I have paid him on account of that estate, $40,958 55; Mr. Hunter's bank account as executor shows that amount deposited; in January I paid Mr. Hunter, on account of the estate, some money. Adjourned until Friday, at 3 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY, April 20—P. M.

The Clearing-House Loan Committee, who manufacture the 5 per cent. tokens, which daily pass at the Clearing-House from the debtor to the creditor Banks, are understood to have made a large additional issue, yesterday, in aid of the weaker Banks, on the pledge of good securities. This accounts, in a measure, for the better feeling in the Money Market on Tuesday, as compared with the extreme panic of Monday. The talk on the Street of the weakness in some of the Clearing-House Banks is not yet silenced, though this sort of gossip did not prevent the extreme panic of Monday. To-day, there were damaging rumors in circulation of the continued weakness of some of the Clearing-house Banks, but these have not prevented the appearance on the Stock Exchange of stronger buyers than last week for many of the Railway Stocks and the withdrawal of deposits at Bank and with the U. S. Trust Company to pay for them. The market appeared quite firm and upward at the First Board, on the adjournment of which one or two additional failures announced and rumored on the Street created a pause in the advance of prices.

At the Second Board there was a less favorable feeling on the Share list, and after the Board broke up the Railway list was very much depressed. It was confirmed that another Stock firm inside the regular Stock Exchange Board, had failed to take their Stocks to-day, and that a heavy and hitherto-esteemed wealthy outside operator in the Railways is in difficulties. We could not find, however, any authority for the report that some of the Clearing House Banks were in trouble. We have reason to believe that Mr. CISCO, the Assistant-Treasurer of the United States, and the National Banks, have extended every proper indulgence on their certified demands for Greenbacks. The chief difficulty appears to be that the Associated Banks, who rely upon settling with each other in tokens of their own manufacture every day, have kept too few Greenbacks on hand to settle with outside parties.

At 4 o'clock the depression on the Railway and other speculations continued, and Erie Stock sold below 110 ℔ cent. The following prices were made as compared with the same hour on Tuesday. The Government 5 20s sold at 111 ℔ cent., and in large amounts, on a free demand, at both sessions of the Board. Gold 167@167½ ℔ cent. Harlem sold at one time to-day as high as 205 ℔ cent.:

The subscriptions to the New Loan to-day were:

At First National Bank	$544,650
Second National Bank	40,000
Treasury Office	31,700
Together	$616,350

The Customs Duties to-day are $408,000. The importers have nearly used up their Gold Certificates and begin to pay in Gold itself at the Cashier's Office of the Custom-House. A good many are busy in withdrawing their goods from Public Warehouse and paying duties thereon, in apprehension that Congress may pass a temporary Tariff Bill raising the rates 25 or 50 ℔ cent. for 60 days, or possibly doubling present rates until the readjustment of the General Tariff Act.

Our Opposition neighbor of the World may as well give over the Bank of Commerce to the new National system. The prefix of National will assuredly soon appear to the present title of this Ten Million concern. Practically it is out of the Clearing House already. It has applied for no Loan tokens, and will receive as few of them through the exchanges as possible. Hence the Bank as a seller of Government Bills on London demands Greenbacks or Gold at the relative difference in rates. If Gold is paid for them in preference by the buyer, it is immediately sold in the market, to be paid for in Greenbacks. These are required in settlement with the Treasury Office for the proceeds of the Government Bills so disposed of. We presume the Bank has refused no check of its own depositors, in payment for Sterling Bills or Gold, where they had a right to draw for Greenbacks actually deposited. If, on the other hand, merely drawing against the deposit of the checks of parties upon other banks, who settle their differences at the Clearing House in anything but Greenbacks, the case is greatly altered. However, the Bank will soon be rid of the Clearing House altogether. It will wheel into the National line as soon as the Bank Bill sent from the House passes the U. S. Senate.

The Ninth National Bank, of which Mr. JOSEPH U. ORVIS is President, and Mr. H. M. HUMPHREY is Cashier, has received from the Comptroller of the Currency authorization to commence business, which it will soon do. We learn that Mr. HUMPHREY has had a good experience in banking in the Phenix Bank and Bank of New-York in this City, and also as Cashier of the Bank of Stamford, Connecticut; and he now resigns the Presidency of the First National Bank of Stamford to accept of the Cashiership of the Ninth. The location of the Bank, Broadway and Canal-street, is most favorable for mercantile accounts in that active neighborhood, without the obligation to lend their money on doubtful credits or fancy stocks, and we have every confidence that with a million of capital the Bank will prove a valuable acquisition to the National system.

The day's business at the Office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States at New-York was as follows: Total receipts, $5,222,676 90; for Customs, $408,000; payments, $4,094,530 65; total balance, $42,120,907 66. Ten-Forties, $31,700.

Popular Loan—The Bank Panic.

From Thompson's Bank Note Reporter.

The First National Bank of this City has in two weeks paid over to the Treasury five millions of dollars for 10-40 Bonds.

These Bonds are delivered to subscribers on the receipt of the orders, and they are also for sale and immediate delivery by us, at par and interest from March 1 at 50 ℔ cent. premium, and ¼ commission off.

A panic in the Fancy Stock market is the feature of the Street this week, and several fancy speculators have failed by the fall of Shares—some of which have run down 30, 40 and 50 ℔ cent.

Money is quite tight, and the old Clearing-house Banks are resorting to unfinancial expedients to meet checks and drafts upon them. Balances are settled at the Clearing-house with tokens called 5 ℔ cent. Certificates—Clearing-house Certificates. They have their origin in this wise: A Bank belonging to the Clearing-house, that gets short, takes to a Clearing-house Committee some of its choicest assets, and gets 90 ℔ cent. of their market value in Certificates bearing 5 ℔ cent. interest. With these it pays its balances to the other Banks. Practically, a snug, sound Bank is compelled to loan to a weak, expansive concern, all balances, at 5 ℔ cent. interest, for an indefinite length of time. Hence, if a Bank contracts its loans, it gets these tokens. The National Banks do not belong to this 5 ℔ cent. token ring; and on Monday, in the midst of the panic, the Bank of Commerce broke loose from the Clearing-house Certificate dodge, and demanded greenbacks in its transactions. This alarmed many of the other large Clearing-house Banks, and they attempted to screen themselves from greenback payments by certifying checks and drafts "good through the exchanges"—thus virtually admitting their inability to pay money. That portion of the public who understand the dodges of the Street immediately bid one to two ℔ cent. premium for money, in exchange for checks on the Banks that showed this white feather.

This is all there is in the report that greenbacks are at a premium.

It is quite evident that the Bank of Commerce must go back into the five per cent. token ring, and abandon its National Bank practices of paying and being paid in money, or the ring must abandon its five per cent. tokens.

Checks and drafts on the National Banks, and on the Bank of Commerce, are as good as greenbacks, and all National Bank Currency is equally good.

We quote Crude Whale at $1 10@$1 12½; Crude Sperm at $1 67½@$1 70; Bleached Winter Whale at $1 23@$1 25; Unbleached Sperm at $1 85@$1 90; Linseed at $1 65; No. 1 Lard at $1 12@$1 15; Crude Petroleum at 40c.@41c. here; Refined do., at 62c.@65c. free, and 51c.@55c. in bond, ℔ gallon. The week's business in Petroleum, Messrs. TURNER & GREIVES notice, thus: "The week, under review has been characterized by extreme firmness, and yet the transactions have been comparatively on a small scale, owing to the reduced stock and the very light receipts. The exports orders are liberal, but it has been impossible to execute any such here for the reasons above stated; but we hear of some three or four cargoes having been negotiated for and closed in Philadelphia, for the Continent, at 52½c.@53c. for Refined, and 33½c.@33¾c. for Crude. The chief attention in this market has been directed to Crude Oil, which rose rapidly to 42c. for gravity 40° to 47°, and closes at say 37c.@38c. for 47°@49° gravity, and 40c. for 40° to 47° gravity. Refined, in bond, has been comparatively neglected, the only transactions of moment having been at 56c., closing quiet but firm at 55c.@56c., with less than 3,000 bbls. to be reached at almost any price. Refined, free, notwithstanding the publication of the report of the Ways and Means Committee recommending an increase of the tax on Refined to 20c. ℔ gallon, has been sparingly dealt in, and closes quiet, at 62c.@63c. for straw up; 64c.@66c. for prime light straw to prime white. Benzine being placed in the same category with refined Oil in the report of the Committee of Ways and Means, has been buoyant, advancing to 35c.@40c. The following are the receipts at and exports from New-York of Petroleum, for the week and since Jan. 1:

	For the Week.	Since Jan. 1.
Receipts of Petroleum, bbls	3,837	148,899
Exports of Petroleum, bbls	758	107,889

PROVISIONS—Pork opened heavily, but closed with more firmness, the demand having improved. Sales since our last 5,600 bbls., at $26@$26 25, chiefly at $26, for New Mess; $27 for do. for June delivery; $25@$25 25 for Old Mess, and $26 for do., May delivery; $25 75@$26 25 for Western and City Prime Mess; $25 25@$25 75 for thin Mess, and $21 50@$23 25 for Old and New Prime ℔ bbl. Cut Meats are in fair demand at 14½c.@16c. for Hams, and 11¼c.@12½c. for Shoulders, ℔ ℔.; sales 500 pkgs. Bacon is in request at 12½c.@14½c., according to quality, ℔ ℔.; sales since our last 150 boxes. Lard is depressed; sales 1,800 tcs. and bbls., for immediate and future delivery, at 13½c.@14½c. ℔ ℔. Beef continues in moderate demand, at uniform rates; sales 650 bbls., at $19@$20 for Extra Mess, $16@$18 for Plain Mess, ℔ bbl., Prime Mess, $26@$28; India Mess, $20@$30; Choice India $42 50 ℔ tierce. Sales, 950 tierces. Beef Hams, $25@$26 ℔ bbl. Butter continues abundant and in limited request at 27c.@35c., the latter an extreme, for poor to choice State, and 22c.@30c. for Western, ℔ ℔. Cheese has been inactive at 16c.@19c. ℔ ℔.

SUGARS—Are in fair request at uniform rates, since our last, 850 hhds., including New-Orleans, 16½c.@18c.; Porto Rico at 17c.@17½c. and Cuba at 15c.@16½c. ℔ ℔. Refined Sugars are in moderate demand at 17½c.@23½c. ℔ ℔.

TALLOW—Sales, since our last, 80,000 ℔s., at 13c.@13½c., and 65,000 ℔s. Grease at 11½c.@12½c., ℔ ℔. The week's business, Messrs. KNIGHT & SONS review thus: "The demand for all kinds of Tallow during the past week has been exceedingly great, and prices steadily advanced from day to day, opening on Wednesday at 13¾c. and reaching 14½c. on Thursday. The sales of City Rendered and Prime Western were made on Thursday at 13½c., at which figures there were some large sales made. We note sales of a large lot of Eastern brands at 13½c. in Boston. There were also some large parcels of Prime City brands sold at 14½c. This excessive demand for Tallow, and the very small stock held here and elsewhere, has made the market very bare of any grades, and prices are very firm, with an upward tendency. We quote Prime City at 13½c., and strictly brands of Eastern and Western. The stock being so light is caused by the small yield of cattle and the extreme price of Beef, which curtails the amount of cattle slaughtered. The receipts of Tallow from all points are fifty per cent. less than they were this time last year. The demand for Soap Grease is active but the receipts of that likewise is small. At the close to-day the market for Tallow was firm with a brisk demand for strictly Prime at 13½c. to 13¾c., but what there is offered is mostly of inferior quality, the choice brands and pick of the market having been taken up during the fore part of week. The home consumptive demand for Tallow is quite active for the season, and soap makers and chandlers are supplying themselves at the current rates. Price this day 1858 10¼, 1859 10½, 1860, 10¼, 1861 9½, 1862 8¾, 1863 11¾, ℔ ℔."

WHISKY—Sales since our last, have been reported to the extent of 2,500 bbls., in lots, at $1 08@$1 10 ℔ gallon, the market closing with an upward tendency.

FREIGHTS—With an increase in the number of vessels in port to 558, and very limited offerings, the market rules quite dull and heavy. For Liverpool, the engagements include 1,200 bbls. Flour at 1d.@2d. ℔ bbl.; 7,000 bushels Wheat, said to have been taken gratuitously; 100 boxes Bacon and 300 boxes Extract of Logwood, at 5s. ℔ ton; 60 tons Oil on private terms; and by steamer, 100 bales Cotton at ¼d. ℔ ℔., and 20 tons Measurement Goods at 25s. For Glasgow, 40 tons Logwood, at 15s., and by steamer, 25 tierces Lard, at 20s. For Bremen, 300 bbls. Shoe Pegs, at 3s.; 700 bales Tobacco at 45c.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Dispatches from Cairo and Washington report another battle on the Red River, severely contested, in which the rebels were finally beaten, with a loss of 2,000 prisoners and 20 cannon. Our force seems at first to have been repulsed, but Gen. Franklin, with the Nineteenth Army Corps, coming up, the rebels were decidedly repulsed. The reports of a defeat published yesterday, doubtless arose from the fact above stated. The news is very meagre, and is mainly derived from private letters received by Fleet-Capt. Pennock, at Cairo, from Grand Ecore and Alexandria, on the 11th and 12th inst.

The steamer Liberty, from New-Orleans April 13, arrived at this port yesterday. The New-Orleans papers of that date have no news whatever of the reported battles up the Red River. Some slight skirmishing was reported between the advance of each force, in which the losses on both sides were small. A letter from Baton Rouge, April 15, speaks of the affair at Pleasant Hill only as a skirmish, in which we had 30 killed and wounded. The rebels were reported to be burning all the cotton on the Red and Onacheta Rivers.

A dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial, from Cattlettsburgh, Ky., dated the 19th inst., says: "Hodge's rebel brigade attacked Col. Gillespie's force at Paintsville, on Tuesday, but was repulsed. Gillespie pursued the retreating rebels, and surprised them on the 14th inst., in camp, at Half Mountain, capturing 70 prisoners, 200 horses, 400 saddles, 300 stand of small arms, and all their camp equipage. Eighty-five rebels were killed and wounded. A rebel wagon train was also captured and burned. Our loss was one killed and four wounded. The rebels were commanded by Cols. Clay, Prentice, May and Johnson. Col. Clay is among the prisoners."

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Australasian arrived at this port last evening, with news from Europe to April 10—three days later. Several later attempts had been made to raise the steamship City of New-York, but so far they had been unsuccessful. The Captain of the United States steamer Kearsage had addressed a letter to Lord Clanricade, denying that he had enlisted any British subjects, and remarking that his complement of men was always full, with a large number of idle American sailors in British ports ready to ship at any time. In the House of Commons, on the 8th, Mr. Layard said, in answer to a question, that the British Government was taking measures to investigate the alleged kidnapping of Irish emigrants into the service of the Federal Army. The particulars of the rebel cotton scheme are published. A large company has been formed with a capital of $1,000,000, to purchase steamers and run the blockade, for the purpose of bringing out cotton to redeem the rebel loan. Collins J. McRae is the rebel agent in the matter. The Financial Budget was announced in the House of Commons on the 7th, by Mr. Gladstone, and made a very favorable impression. The estimated expenditure for the past fiscal year was £68,283,000, but the actual expenditure was £67,056,000. Garibaldi was still at the Isle of Wight, where he had been treated with the greatest consideration. The freedom of the City of London had been accorded to him, and on his arrival Lord Palmerston would entertain him at a banquet. The Danish war was being vigorously prosecuted by the Germans. On the 7th the Prussians opened a terrible bombardment on Duppel and Sonderborg, and it is stated that in the latter place 80 women and children were killed, they not having had notice to leave. The German steamer Rembrandt had been captured by a Danish man-of-war. The Conference would meet in London on the 13th. Another positive announcement was made that Maximilian's troubles were all settled, and that he would positively leave Trieste for Mexico on the 13th. A very valuable and fast blockade-runner, called the Matilda, had been lost at sea off Landy's Light. She was valued at $300,000.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate yesterday, a joint resolution was introduced by Mr. Harris, providing for the taking of an industrial census in 1865 by the States. The question of appointing a Committee of Conference on the Montana disagreement was discussed but no conclusion reached. The bill repealing the Fugitive Slave Law was taken up and discussed by Messrs. Foster, Sumner and Brown, until the hour of adjournment.

In the House, yesterday, the day session was occupied in considering the Tax Bill. No speeches were made, and fifty-two resolutions were considered and passed upon. During the evening session the bill for a new coinage of one and two cent pieces was passed. The bill for reconstructing overthrown State Governments was then taken up, and Messrs. Norton, of Illinois, and Broomall, of Pennsylvania, spoke in favor of the bill, and the House adjourned at 10 o'clock.

LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, yesterday, the following bills were reported: To continue in office the New-York Tax Commissioners; the Queens County Oyster Bill; relative to the Hunter's Point Railroad; the General Appropriation Bill; the bill providing pay for the enrolling officers of 1862. The following bills were passed: Amending the charter of Brooklyn; amending the Metropolitan Police Law; for the collection of unpaid taxes in Richmond County, and legalizing the acts of the New-York Supervisors in the matter of bounties and riot damages.

In the Assembly, bills were favorably reported relative to Common Schools in New-York; relative to the Atlantic Savings Bank; relative to the Citizens' Savings Bank of New-York; authorizing the City of Brooklyn to issue bonds. The following bills were reported adversely, and the reports agreed to, relative to the New-York Annuity Savings Bank; relative to the New-York Freemasons' and Odd Fellows' Savings Bank; for a Public Stock Exchange in New-York. Bills were passed authorizing the State Banks to organize as National Banks; the new Militia Bill; to incorporate the East India Telegraph Company. The New-York City and County Tax Levies were considered in Committee of the Whole, when progress was reported, and the levies made the special order for to-day; for the better protection of seamen in the port of New-York.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Boston Traveller of Monday evening, says: "Mr. Green, the murderer of young Converse, was arraigned at Lowell, this morning, and pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree, He was informed that this plea was not possible under the indictment. After consultation with Messrs. Sweetser and Griffin, he pleaded guilty in the first degree. Judge Hoar postponed sentence till Monday next. The accused manifested no unusual emotion. The court-room was crowded with spectators."

The examination on the case of John W. Hunter, was continued before the United States Commissioner, yesterday afternoon. Sidney Webster Esq., opened the case for the accused, and several witnesses for the defence were examined.

The Stock Market, yesterday, after opening with an improved feeling, closed with renewed depression. The Money difficulties on the Street were not over, and the closing feeling on the Street was one of uneasiness. Gold dull; 167@167½ ℔ cent. Government Stocks firm and in increased favor for the 5-20s, at 111 per cent. The sales of the 10-40s, $616,350.

Factious Opposition to the Union National Convention.

The New Nation, the newly-established organ in this City of the Presidential interests of Gen. Fremont, says: "We advise every one at once to give up all idea of taking part in the Baltimore Convention, as that convention is a nonentity." Ordinarily, nobody thinks of pricking up the ears at the sound of a little trumpet. But, in this case, it is well to give a little attention, as we have here an outgiving of a spirit which unquestionably animates some, at least, of the supporters of Gen. Fremont. It discloses the animus of much of the clamor that has been raised against the assemblage of the National Convention in June rather than September. It is from the very extreme wing of the Union party which has been most obstreperous for a postponement of the convention that is now heard the fanfaronade that the convention itself is "a nonentity"—which, being interpreted, means that inasmuch as it is settled that the convention cannot be managed, it shall be repudiated.

Now, although we have from the beginning frankly expressed our preferences for the continuance of Mr. Lincoln in the Presidential chair, we have never uttered the first word in disparagement of any other person named for the place. Not a syllable have we dropped against Gen. Fremont, notwithstanding the fact that those who have particularly labored for his nomination, have been particularly forward in abusing President Lincoln. Our principle has been that the first of all necessities was the unity of the Union party—that while it was harmless, and indeed beneficial, for any Union man to urge in a proper way his favorite for the nomination at Baltimore, yet all assaults upon the favorites of other Union men would only excite bitterness and discord, and therefore should be carefully avoided. We have also held, in the same sense of duty, that the convention should be left free to make its nomination, without fear or favor, as its estimate of public opinion and of the public interests should dictate. We are certain that such is the disposition of the great body of the Union party. The same loyal spirit which formed that party out of very diverse materials, which fused all antecedent party prejudices and jealousies into one common determination to stand united and to the death for the old flag still predominates, and remains as ever the only real pledge of the final success of the national cause.

Gen. Fremont has his ardent supporters. Nobody complains of that. If they can succeed in impressing upon the majority of the delegates of the Union party sent to Baltimore the conviction that it is well to make an entire change in the administration of the Government at this critical period, and that Gen. Fremont is the fittest and surest man to carry this struggle triumphantly through, it will be the duty of every loyal man to acquiesce in the decision, and give his nomination the heartiest support. Any other line of conduct will inevitably cause a break in the party, and open the way for the success of the Copperhead candidate and the ruin of the nation. If this duty of acquiescence is incumbent upon the advocates of Mr. Lincoln, it is also just as incumbent upon the advocates of Gen. Fremont. Whoever may be the person preferred, all personal preferences sink into nothingness before the duty of maintaining the integrity of that party in whose policy is involved the salvation of the Republic. We believe that Gen. Fremont himself, and most of his supporters, will recognize this, and conform to it. It is incredible that men who call themselves loyal, and who have professed hitherto to be identified with the great Union party of the nation, should, at this late day, undertake to organize a movement independent of that party, and which could only succeed by fatally dividing it. Such a secession from the party, for mere personal motives, would be most infamous treachery. It is hardly possible that it should be attempted. If it is attempted, its authors will draw upon themselves the execrations of all true men; and that is all they will gain by it. No faction can prevent the success of the regular nominee of the Baltimore Convention. The loyal masses of the North have the sense to understand the necessity of cleaving to that nomination, and the patriotism to perform the duty in spite of every device to prevent it. It has been the main business of the Union party to combat faction outside of its own ranks. It has learned to hate faction with perfect hatred. It is very certain that any manifestation of that spirit within its ranks will receive no favor.

The Army of the Potomac.

The Army of the Potomac has now had a long period of rest from battle. It is over nine months since it fought a general engagement, and that was on the soil of Pennsylvania. These nine months it has mainly passed in camp, though in October last, and the two months following, it did some heavy marching and countermarching, and parts of it had encounters with bodies of rebels. But its achievements since last July have been inconsequential, and it is now planted near the position it assumed after the victory of Gettysburgh.

Events indicate that the Army of the Potomac will soon again measure swords with its old adversary. It is now being prepared, and is preparing itself, for the great contest—prepared by improvement of its organization, additions to its numbers, etc. At its last battle it was commanded by a soldier without experience as leader of an army, and who took the command in an emergency and under circumstances such as would test the highest genius. At its last battle it had no coöperating columns, and hardly any reserve. Now it will fight under an experienced leader, who has had time and opportunity to get it well in hand, and who has forces to spare to place in advantageous positions of coöperation.

If Lieut.-Gen. Grant is preparing his gallant army for battle, so is Gen. Lee preparing his forces. We believe that Lee commands a larger and better army to-day than he ever did before. We are sorry to see some journals speaking of the main rebel army as a "weak, dispirited, and demoralized rabble." There is no reason to believe it either demoralized, dispirited or weak. There is every reason to believe its condition the reverse of this, in each particular. Demoralization is the immediate result of a rout in the field, and dispiritedness is the result of despair of success. If Lee's army was fairly beaten at Gettysburgh, it was by no means routed, and the three-fourths of a year that have intervened since then, has been amply sufficient to restore any of the military morale it may have lost by discomfiture in the field. To our vision and reasoning, the failure of the rebel cause seems certain, and therefore it is quite proper that they should despair. But though we have seen this from the beginning, it is unfortunate that the rebels have not seen it, and there is less ground than ever to believe that they see it now. As to the strength of Lee's army, it has during the past winter, according to authentic estimates, been something less than sixty thousand. The conscripts who have been gathered in camps during the winter, are now being forwarded, and the small detachments at posts are being drawn in. In addition to these, we have intelligence this morning by telegraph, of positive information having been received at headquarters, that Longstreet's force of some twelve thousand, have at last effected their junction with Lee's army. It is further reported that troops from Joe Johnston's army, and from Charleston, have began to arrive in Virginia. We are inclined to fully believe that the greater part of Beauregard's Charleston army has been, or will presently be, transferred to Virginia; for the long cessation of operations against Charleston, and the little prospect of their speedy resumption, as well as the necessities of the situation, would lead the rebels to move these forces to the point of action and of peril. But it seems unreasonable to believe that any part of Johnston's army could be spared from Northern Georgia; for the holding of Atlanta is almost as important to the rebels as the holding of Richmond, and Gen. Thomas, who has a first-class army at Chattanooga, would undoubtedly seize the opportunity offered by the weakening of Johnston, to push his way down into the heart of Georgia.

Adding thus the fresh conscripts and the outlying detachments in Virginia and North Carolina to the already huge army of Lee—increasing this by the force of Longstreet, and still further by the army of Beauregard, and we shall get some conception of the magnitude of the force that Lee has, or will have, in hand for the pending campaign. It is a wrong both to the country and the army to represent Lee's army as "weak." Were ideas of its weakness prevalent at headquarters they might lead to rash movements and fatal results.

There is a tremendous pressure by a powerful party in the South for an advance movement by Gen. Lee. It is no argument to these people to point them to the failure of each of their two previous advances on Northern soil—to their failures at Antietam and Gettysburgh. It were as well to try to dissuade the people of the North from advancing upon Richmond and into Virginia by pointing them to the failure of all previous attempts to reach the rebel capital. But still it is greatly to be doubted that Lee will ever again try to march his army to this side of the Potomac, except in event of the utter demolition of the army of Gen. Grant—which is certainly a thing most unlikely to occur. Were Lee to advance at this time into the Shenandoah Valley, and attempt to take the initiative in the campaign, we do by no means believe that Lieut.-Gen. Grant would fall back with his whole army to Washington and this side of the Potomac; but, perhaps, Lee would quickly find an enemy in his rear, his communications cut, and Richmond besieged and unapproachable.

As the day draws nigh when the old heroic Army of the Potomac under Grant shall again try conclusions with the veteran army of the rebels under Lee, the interest and affection and prayers of the country begin once again to go out for our army. It has the love and admiration of the whole land. It has a grand history. It has a sublime devotion. It has officers tried and true. It has a chief who has acquired the "habit of victory," and who, during last year, inscribed on his banner the immortal legends—Vicksburgh and Chattanooga.

Company D, Forty-seventh Pennsylvania Regiment.—A communication which we publish to-day, gives some facts about Company D, of the Forty-seventh Pennsylvania Regiment, which we think will interest our readers. It is rare, probably, to find in any company so many relatives; for war generally severs, or at least interrupts, the home ties and affections; and these men have the advantage over many others, in that they are enabled to keep so many ties uninjured.

The fact that but one man should have died from disease out of the entire company in a period of eighteen months, is very remarkable, and may attract the attention of those who are interested in sanitary questions. War does not often let a hundred men off so easily. There are some things which our correspondent states that help to account for this company's being able to tell so good a story.

The men were sober men, a matter of prime importance; for men whose constitutions are worn and strained by intemperance easily yield to the great demands which war, of necessity, makes upon the soldier. Disease finds easier entrance and works more disastrous results in whisky-shaken constitutions than in sober ones.

They were intelligent men, with their hearts in the work which they had undertaken to perform. Their intelligence seems to have enabled them to know or to learn how to preserve their health, and to have taught them not only to make, but to abide by proper sanitary rules; and because they did their work heartily, they would not suffer so much as many of our soldiers do from that listlessness and dissatisfaction which takes the spring out of their lives, and makes them an easy prey to sickness.

It would undoubtedly powerfully contribute to their good health, that they were so well known to each other. They carried much more of home with them than most of our soldiers can do—and homesickness is no small agent in increasing illness in an army. In this respect these men have doubtless had the advantage over most soldiers. But in the results of adopting and carrying out proper sanitary regulations, they would not certainly have any advantage.

We have no doubt that future years are to show a very great diminution in certain kinds of horrors which have always accompanied war. There are very many which are inseparable from it. Battles cannot be fought without causing pains and losses from which humanity must ever shrink. But in all that larger portion of the "horrors of war," which spring from sickness, there may be great alleviation. As men know better the laws of health, they will be able to bring these things more and more under control. But men are slow to learn those laws; and there is little prospect of very much change for the better during the existence of the present war. There is quite sure to be needed all the resources which the charity of the country can bring, to supply the wants of our soldiers. Our resources are mighty, and it is a great joy to see the proceeds of our fairs swelling so steadily. But we shall need them all.

Small Change.—Is it known at headquarters that the vast and continuous issue of nickel pennies has not the slightest visible effect in reducing the premium on small change? Such is the fact, whether it be known or not. The so-called postal currency, of course, only supplies the place that used to be filled by the half and quarter dollar, and dime and half-dime pieces, and in no manner enters into competition with the wonderful mixture of metal which makes up the one-cent coinage. If the postal currency had been in fact, as it nominally is, the representative of the Post-office stamps in actual use, the grievance we complain of would have been obviated. Thus, a three and a twelve-cent currency bill, representing (as these would have done,) probably nine-tenths of the Post-office stamp issues would not only have been a great convenience to the Department itself, and prevented the anomaly of local Postmasters paying a premium for small change, as many of them do now, but it would have made the existing speculation in nickel impossible. Nobody wants the stuff, except in so far as it is a necessity of settling fractional accounts. There is more of it now stowed away in old barrels in petty broker's offices than can ever be needed, were the currency of the country restored to its normal condition. Multiplying such an intrinsically worthless coinage, therefore, seems to us bad economy in every sense—first, however, and chiefly, because it is only ministering to the rapacity of those who deal in it at the expense of the public convenience. There can surely be no good reason why the postal currency should not represent the stamps most in use in the Post-office. There can, at least, be no cause for depriving the public of the remedy which the three-cent bill would at once supply as an antidote to the villainous speculation of the nickel-dealer.

The New Tax Bill.—We publish, in another portion of this morning's paper, a table of the internal taxes, as it is proposed to make them by the bill now under consideration in Congress. The new bill contains a number of noticeable features, the most prominent of which is the general increase of taxes throughout the list. The general rule of taxing manufactures three per cent. has been changed, so as to require five per cent. The income tax has also been increased to five per cent. Some important sections regarding Brokers and Banks have been introduced. Our readers will find the table reliable and useful, and it will correct a number of errors circulated by the publication of a table in one of the journals yesterday.

Grant and Lee.—The Southern rebels, as well as some folks in the North, are fond of shaking their heads in view of Lieut.-Gen. Grant's approaching campaign in Virginia, with the remark that though Grant has heretofore been successful in beating the rebel Generals, he has never yet encountered Gen. Lee. That is true enough. But do these people ever think that, if it be true that Grant has never fought Lee, it is equally true that Lee has never met Grant?

Amusements.

Academy of Music.—To-night is set apart for the benefit of Mme. Ortalani-Brignoli. The programme for the occasion is composed of "La Traviata" entire, and the second act of "Un Ballo in Maschera."

Niblo's Saloon.—Mr. L. M. Gottschalk will give a grand concert at this establishment to-night, assisted by first-rate talent. The programme is very attractive.

THE METROPOLITAN FAIR.

The Art Auction—Large Sales and Attendance—Receipts, &c.

FIFTEENTH DAY.

The crowd yesterday was as great as on any day since the opening of the fair, from the time the doors were opened in the morning till they were closed at night. The building was kept perfectly jammed. The enthusiasm was as great as ever, and the disposition to purchase even greater. The receipts, accordingly, were very satisfactory, and as a natural consequence, the young ladies were as smiling and happy as one could wish.

The Executive Committee have very properly decided that there shall be no more auctions, except those in the Art Gallery and the Curiosity Shop, until after the close of the fair. The reason being, that if they had been allowed to continue, the building would have been perfectly barren by Friday, and the people who could afford to pay only twenty-five cents for their admission, would have seen nothing. Now, however, they will have a good opportunity to see most all the attractions, and there will be plenty of time for the auctions during the week after the close of the Fair.

AUTOGRAPHS.

The Fire Department have at their stand a large collection of rare and valuable autographs, which they sell at very reasonable prices, among them those of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Arnold and many others equally valuable. It is, after the collection in the Art Gallery, one of the best ever exhibited to the public, and well worthy a visit from all who are interested in such matters, or who are making collections.

THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.

The President's Proclamation of Emancipation, very neatly lithographed, and ornamented with numerous pictures depicting various scenes in slave life, is on exhibition and for sale at the Welsh table. It is very handsome as a work of art, and attracts considerable attention. A great number of copies are sold every day, and the demand for them increases steadily.

AUCTION SALE OF PHOTOGRAPHS, ETC.

A fine and interesting collection of photographs and engravings will be sold at auction, at 7½ o'clock this evening, in the Art Gallery of the Metropolitan Fair. This collection embraces proofs of some of the finest engravings ever imported, many meritorious pen and ink sketches by known artists, portfolio of original sketches by architectural contributors, with photographs of their finished works, and a most valuable collection of photographs, embracing highly finished imperials of distinguished public men by Brady, Gurney and others. A cabinet-size copy of the splendid photograph by Brady, of the Executive Committee of the Fair, will also be offered. This is an unusual opportunity whereby to make purchases of choice works. Great exertions have been made by the committee having this department in charge to make the collection a worthy and admirable one, and they have succeeded. This evening connoisseurs will have a chance to make acquisitions.

AN AFGHAN FOR A GENERAL.

At the stand of the Church of the Resurrection—Stand No. 4—is a very elegant Afghan, which is to be given by vote of the ladies to one of the two Generals, Grant and McClellan. The voting has commenced and, as it is confined exclusively to ladies, approach to the polls is found very difficult. Still voting proceeds spiritedly.

IN MEMORIAM—T. STARR KING.

A beautifully executed pamphlet bearing the above title, has just made its appearance on the book table of the Fair. Its issue has been unavoidably delayed, but, nevertheless, its exquisite tributes to the memory of a divine held dear in the hearts of many of our citizens, will find for it a large sale during the last days of the fair. Mr. King, while living, always used both voice and pen for the promotion of the great objects of the commission, and that purpose can still be subserved by those who esteem him, in obtaining a copy of this tribute to his memory.

THE CURIOSITY SHOP.

One of the pleasantest nooks in the fair is the curiosity shop, and one of the greatest curiosities in it is the beautiful little model of Mr. Burden's famous machine for making horseshoes. The original machines, in operation at his works in Troy, turn out, we believe, sixty genuine horseshoes, a minute each. This little model works with less speed, but gives in every respect an accurate idea of the invention and its workings. A long, narrow bar of lead—a quarter of an inch wide, perhaps—is made into miniature horseshoes with great rapidity, and by machinery well worth examining for the beauty and simplicity of its working. These are afterward very neatly gilded, strung in clusters of three upon ribbons of red, white and blue, and sold as mementoes, at once patriotic and tasteful, of the Metropolitan Fair. More than 10,000 of these neat little keepsakes have already been sold, and they are still in great demand. Mrs. Gen. McDowell presides over the curiosity shop, which contains a very large and valuable collection of rare mementoes, historical relics and articles of interest, and is assisted, especially in the sale of horseshoes, by several young ladies, who share the enthusiasm which has inspired so many of our ladies to labor day and night in advancing the objects and purposes of the fair.

THE ART AUCTION.

Last evening the sale of pictures was continued in the art gallery, the bidding was very spirited, and the prices paid very fair. Considerable dissatisfaction was expressed at the closing of the gallery at 4½ o'clock in the afternoon, and the refusal to admit season tickets after that time; also, the raising of the price of admission to 50 cents.

"The Valley of the Yo Semite Cae." by Bierstadt, brought $1,600; "Head—Young Girl," by Geo. A. Baker, $1,300; "Venice—Sunrise," by Huntington, $650; "Pass of the Gonda," by S. R. Gifford, $390; "French Peasant Girl," by Dana, $400; "The Unexpected Friend," by Leutze, $475; "Sunset with Deer," by Zwengour, $460; "The Setting Sun," by F. E. Church, $650; "A Woman of Sonino," by Thomas Hicks, $300; "The Soldier's Widow," by Louis Lang, $220; "Autumn Pastime," by W. J. Hennesey, $165. One hundred and five pictures were sold during the evening, in addition to which, two black walnut caskets, containing collections of pictures, were sold respectively for $2,600 and $3,000. Two busts of Washington, one for $150 and one for $200, and a bust of Wm. H. Seward, $175.

The amount realized by the sale is over $30,000.

The sword excitement was even greater than on the previous day, and the greenbacks very plenty. The total vote cast at the Fourteenth-street building at the close of the fair was 13,938, of which

Gen. McClellan received	6,531
Gen. Grant	6,293
Scattering	114

McClellan's majority, 238.

The total number of votes cast at both buildings was 14,114, of which

Gen. Grant has received	7,007
Gen. McClellan	6,989
Scattering	118

Gen. Grant's majority on the total vote, 18.

RECEIPTS.

The receipts yesterday were considerably larger than on the previous day, and are as follows:

Receipts from sales to 3 P. M.	$12,878 26
Receipts from admission	3,281 00
Receipts from admission, Union-square	950 25
Receipts, donations	11,487 85
Total	$28,606 36

REPORT OF RECEIPTS BY OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

Union-square, gross receipts	$56,610 45
Restaurant, gross receipts	55,200 00
Fire Department, gross receipts	22,000 00
Indian Department, gross receipts	3,550 00

FROM ALBANY.

Hasty Legislation—The Bank Bill—The New-York Tax Levy—The Metropolitan Police Bill—Reception of Battle Flags.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

Albany, Wednesday, April 20, 1864.

The confusion and haste with which business is now transacted by the Legislature, especially in the Assembly, is a subject of constant comment here. As an instance of the hurried way in which bills are passed, I may mention that this morning the Militia Law, or act to amend the National Guard Law, which appropriates three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, was taken up for the third reading, and read, and the roll-call begun before many members knew what bill they were to vote upon, and the inquiry "What question is this?" went round just in time to get an answer and vote, if indeed members did all get the information in time, which I very much doubt. A member rises as I am writing, and asks to have his vote set right upon the Militia Bill, saying that he voted under a misapprehension. I hear another express surprise at learning that the bill has been up and passed. The pressure of business requires this dispatch, but is it safe?

The Bank question could not be decided in so quiet a manner. When Mr. Brandreth's bill to nationalize the State banks came up for third reading, it was the signal for a fracas. The bill had been reported complete, and no opportunity had been given to discuss it. On the question of proceeding to its third reading and putting it upon its passage, a member moved the previous question, which was ordered. Mr. Weaver (Democrat) moved that the bill be referred to Committee of the Whole for consideration, and insisted that as the bill had not been discussed but only reported complete, his motion was in order under a special rule, notwithstanding the previous question had been ordered. The Speaker ruled his motion out of order, and he appealed from the decision. The House sustained the decision of the Speaker by a vote of two-thirds in his favor. Several members protested with a good deal of feeling against this method, or any method, of stifling debate. The bill was, however, read the third time and passed by a vote of 70 yeas to 42 nays.

The New-York Tax-levy report was briefly considered in the Assembly to-day, but no progress made beyond a manifestation of a determination to examine and scrutinize the report very carefully. The report is set down as special order for to-morrow morning, other important matters crowding it off for to-day.

In the Senate, this morning, the bill amending the Metropolitan Police Law passed, containing, it will be remembered, a provision which I noticed as inserted yesterday, making it a misdemeanor to sell intoxicating liquors on Sunday, and thus giving vitality to a law which has been a dead letter. On its final passage, no Senator voted against the bill excepting Mr. Murphy. Senator Fields was present and voted for the bill, he having opposed the amendment strenuously.

Important matters in the Senate are moving rather slowly, but perhaps more safely than in the House. In reference to the pressure of business Senator Ames offered the following resolution to-day:

Whereas, The great increase of legislative matter which the annual development of the growth, wealth and population of the State devolves upon each succeeding Legislature calls for a wider scope or greater facility for disposing of the same; therefore

Resolved, That the Senate appoint a select committee of three Senators, with power to sit during the month of December next, or so much thereof as may be necessary to classify the subjects of legislation so as to give to the Boards of Supervisors such matters as may properly be disposed of by them, and to determine what in their judgment may be disposed of by general laws, and that they report the result of their labors to the Senate by the 15th day of January, 1865.

The two Houses meet in joint convention in the Assembly this evening to formally receive battle-flags which have been forwarded by various regiments. About fifty of such flags are to be received.

No action has been taken fixing the time for final adjournment.

Albany, Wednesday, April 20.

The Legislature was not in session this evening, both houses having adjourned to meet in joint assembly, to receive in behalf of the State the battle flags of fifty-five New-York volunteer regiments, which have been deposited in the Bureau of Military Statistics as mementos of the war. The history of each flag was briefly told by Adj.-Gen. Sprague, and they were received by Gov. Seymour for the State in a short speech. Speeches were also made by Speaker Alvord and Gen. Crooke.

The Governor signed the Albany Bridge bill this morning.

It is understood that the Governor sent to the Senate to-day the following nominations: For Canal Auditor, A. B. Parmalee, of Franklin County, at present Canal Appraiser; for Canal Appraiser, Hiram Gardner, of Lockport, late Canal Commissioner, in place of Mr. Parmalee; and Thomas B. Carroll, a reappointment.

From the Mississippi.

Cairo, Tuesday, April 19.

Ten more wounded at Fort Pillow, picked up a few days since from their hiding places, where they had been suffering since the battle, have been brought up to the Mound City Hospital.

The guerrillas recently made a raid on the cotton plantations at Tensas, La., forty miles below Vicksburgh, and captured a large number of negroes and mules. They carried off W. R. Allison, of Mattoon, Ill., and, after reaching a safe distance, they compelled him to dig his own grave, and made his own negroes bury him. This statement is derived from the Superintendent of the plantations, who has arrived here, and is a reliable man.

The guerrillas along the river are determined that the abandoned plantations shall not be worked by Northern men.

The steamer Eclipse, from Cincinnati, reports seeing about 200 guerrillas on Hurricane Island, about 40 miles above Smith Island, where she was fired into. The steamer Liberty was also fired into opposite Shawneetown. No damage was done in either case.

Cairo, Wednesday, April 20.

The greater portion of the town of Hickman, Ky., has been burned by the guerrillas.

The officers of the steamer Anderson saw about 400 guerrillas in Henderson, Ky., on the 18th, and passed without landing.

The Fifteenth and Nineteenth Mississippi, the Second and Thirteenth Missouri, the Second Tennessee and a regiment of Texan Rangers are known to have been a part of the rebel force engaged in the Fort Pillow massacre. The rebels acknowledge a loss of ten killed and fifteen wounded. But there are evidences of a greater loss.

Memphis, Monday, April 18.

Gen. Sherman has directed Gen. Hurlbut to report at Cairo. This indicates some change in the Sixteenth Army Corps, and Gen. Buckland may again command Memphis and vicinity.

NEW-YORK WEEKLY TIMES.

The NEW-YORK WEEKLY TIMES is published THIS MORNING, and may be had at the counter of the publication office, in wrappers, ready for mailing. Price Five Cents.

In addition to the latest intelligence by telegraph up to the moment of going to press, there will be found in the current number full details of all military movements in the different departments, from the pens of our special correspondents. Also, all official orders, reports and documents, and the latest and fullest Washington news. European news, with graphic letters from our correspondents in London and Paris, giving the tone of public feeling abroad, is made a special and permanent feature. In addition to Editorials on all the current topics of the day, the Weekly Times has a page of carefully prepared commercial matter, giving the latest financial news and market reports; items of agriculture and domestic interest, compiled from sources many of which are otherwise inaccessible to the American reader; and marriages and deaths of the week.

The "Weekly Record," or news summary—being a careful synopsis and digest of the news of the day, both rebellion and general—is alone worth double the subscription price to the paper, as it preserves in a condensed and conveniently classified form all news of interest, and must prove valuable as a record to all time.

The WEEKLY TIMES will be sent to subscribers in any part of the country on the following terms: One copy one year, $2; three copies one year, $5; ten copies one year, $15; twenty copies one year, $25. To any one who will send us a Club of Twenty, the Semi-Weekly Times will be sent gratuitously for one year. To any one sending us a Club of Fifty, the Daily Times will be sent gratis for one year.

A Word to "Smokers."

'Tis not our intention to preach a reform against the growing and sociable use of the weed, for it is a luxurious comfort. What gentleman, we ask, old or young, who is addicted to this habit of enjoying himself behind a good Havana, particularly after a hearty meal, will dispute us. We speak from experience, for we often indulge in a good cigar ourselves, but what we wish to suggest, is, try that justly popular fragrant, convenient and efficacious Dentifrice SOZODONT, just the thing after smoking; removes instantly the unpleasant taste and ordors attendant on the use of tobacco; 'tis refreshingly agreeable, and leaves the mouth cool and sweet.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

A lady of fifty-six was out of health generally; no food agreed with her; always violent pains in the stomach after eating. All the remedies she took did her no good, until at last she took BRANDRETH'S PILLS for a few days together, then rested for a few days. This method she followed for three months, which restored her health completely.

A young lady was obliged to leave school because of a constant severe pain in the region of the heart when she read aloud or spoke, or went up stairs, or walked quickly. Her case was nearly a fatal one, by the remedies employed, of which bleeding was one. But at length she used BRANDRETH'S PILLS, which in one year cured her, and now her health is fully restored.

TUMOR OF THE NECK CURED.

A young gentleman had a tumor on one side of his neck which had been years in coming. It was pronounced a cancer. Dr. BRANDRETH expressed the opinion that perseverance with his PILLS would cure it. They were used according to the printed instructions which accompany each box, and soon the tumor began to give way. In a little over one year they cured it perfectly, and the gentleman cannot now be surpassed for health and vigor.

Is it any wonder BRANDRETH'S PILLS are so well patronized?

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 8, 1864, which provides that in lieu of so much of the loan authorized by the Act of March 3, 1863, to which this is supplementary, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorised to borrow, from time to time, on the credit of the United States, not exceeding TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS during the current fiscal year, and to prepare and issue therefor Coupon and Registered Bonds of the United States; and all Bonds issued under this Act shall be EXEMPT FROM TAXATION by or under any State or municipal authority. Subscriptions to these Bonds are received in United States notes or notes of National Banks. They are TO BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually, and on all other Bonds semi-annually.

The interest is payable on the first days of March and September in each year. The semi-annual Coupons are payable at those dates, and the annual Coupons on the fifty and one hundred dollar bonds are payable on the 1st of March.

Subscribers will receive either Registered or Coupon Bonds, as they may prefer. Registered Bonds are recorded on the Books of the United States Treasurer, and can be transferred only on the owner's order. Coupon Bonds are payable to bearer, and are more convenient for commercial uses.

Registered bonds will be issued of the denominations of Fifty Dollars, ($50,) One Hundred Dollars, ($100,) Five Hundred Dollars, ($500,) One Thousand Dollars, ($1,000,) Five Thousand Dollars, ($5,000,) and Ten Thousand Dollars, ($10,000;) and Coupon Bonds of the denominations of Fifty Dollars, ($50,) One Hundred Dollars, ($100,) Five Hundred Dollars, ($500,) and One Thousand Dollars, ($1,000.)

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their Bonds draw interest from March 1st, by paying the accrued interest in coin—(or in United States notes, or the notes of National Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or receive them drawing interest from the date of subscription and deposit.

As these Bonds are exempt from municipal or State taxation, their value is increased from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax levies in various parts of the country.

At the present rate of premium on gold they pay over eight per cent. interest in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as the various descriptions of United States Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities only, is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

The fact that all duties on imports are payable in specie furnishes a fund for like payment of interest on all Government Bonds largely in excess of the wants of the treasury for this purpose.

Upon the receipt of subscriptions a certificate of deposit therefor, in duplicate, will be issued, the original of which will be forwarded by the subscriber to the Secretary of the Treasury, at Washington, with a letter stating the kind (registered or coupon) and the denominations of bonds required.

Upon the receipt of the original certificates at the Treasury Department, the bonds subscribed for will be transmitted to the subscribers respectively.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States at Washington, and the Assistant Treasurers at New-York, Boston and Philadelphia, and by the

THE CASE OF HUTCHINGS, THE "LIGHTNING CALCULATOR."

There was published in these columns a few days since the remarkable cure of Hutchings, the "Lightning Calculator," so well known to the public during the many years he exhibited his wonderful arithmetical powers at Barnum's Museum, by the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Hutchings is represented to have been at the point of death, and but for the timely interference of the Doctor, would now be resting in his grave. This is a remarkable case, and worthy of the attention of persons similarly afflicted.

We think it is but just to Doctor Von Eisenberg to call public attention to this case. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, who, like the "Lightning Calculator," if not actually praying for death, are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, trifle not with inexperienced men, but consult, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to assure his patients whether it is within his power to make them whole or not.

EARS TO THE DEAF.

Every man, and especially every woman, believes in his or her physician. There are philosophical minds which hold to an abstract faith in Allopathy, or Homeopathy, or Hydropathy, or some other form of scientific cure; but with the world at large the belief is not in the system, but in the doctor. Especially is this true as regards aurists and oculists. The patient who has recovered his sight or his hearing is sure that the blessing could have been restored to him by no other practitioner than that particular one by whom his eyes or ears were opened. Dr. Von Eisenberg is among our best-known aurists. He has not lent us ears as a brother practitioner has eyes, and in whose skill, therefore, we believe above all others. But we hear of him from those who esteem him not merely as a surgeon, but as a benefactor. A recent case has been related to us, for the truthfulness of which we can vouch, though we can name no names. The patient was a lady who had been deaf from infancy, as a consequence of some of the ailments to which children are liable. Latterly the disease had taken an acute form, and the patient was subject to intense suffering. The deafness was rapidly becoming complete, and the general health breaking down under the physical exhaustion attendant upon constant pain. Ordinary remedies and ordinary advice were useless, and Dr. Von Eisenberg was called in. We need not repeat his diagnosis, for that would be only a list of hard names to the general reader. But he detected at sight the seat of disease, first in one portion of the organism, then in another, and with manipulation as skillful as his insight was accurate, he removed the causes, and she who, from infancy, had heard with difficulty, and latterly hardly at all, was restored first to perfect hearing and then to perfect health. Dr. Von Eisenberg's advertisement reminds us of this case, which we thus briefly relate, though not at his solicitation. Let him that hath not ears, hear.

From the Christian Times.

SIGHT RESTORED.

CONCERNING EYES AND OCULISTS.

Of the five senses, that which we call seeing is the most important and most valued. In proportion as this sense fails us, we are reduced to helplessness. If entirely destitute of sight, how slow would be our progress in knowledge, and how limited our sphere of action and usefulness. Endowed with it, the universe becomes a new creation, clothed with beauty and diversified by that infinite variety which never fails to attract the mind and heart.

For several months past this has been a practical subject to us. An inflamed condition of the eyelids communicating itself to the pupil, rendered the discharge of daily duties not only painful, but dangerous. Attributing it to the effect of a cold, we endured it through the Spring, with the hope that with the return of warm weather it would entirely disappear. But in this we were doomed to disappointment. Summer returned, but not our wonted sight. What might have been the result, either of further neglect or of incompetent treatment, we cannot say.

Stating our case to a friend, he assured us that a similar one in his own family had recently been treated with entire success by Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Satisfying ourselves by more particular inquiries that the doctor is no empiric, but a scientific oculist and aurist, we concluded to seek the benefits of his treatment, which we have now reason to acknowledge is very great. Though but a few weeks under his care, the appearance of our eyes has totally changed. The pupil is now full and clear, and the lids are entirely free from inflammation. The doctor says that the optic nerve has been weakened and the retina assumed a chronic inflammatory state, affecting more or less all the other tissues, and threatening, if neglected, to end in Amaurosis. Opthalmitis, is the term we believe, which oculists apply to eyes affected as were ours. Having obtained the much desired relief, we take great pleasure in acknowledging our indebtedness to the talent of Dr. Von Eisenberg, and of calling to it the attention of others who may be suffering from a similar or even worse condition of their eyes. It is said that Providence provides an antidote for every bane. It is certain that the eye is, in these times, subject to severer trials than formerly. Let us be thankful, then, that as we increase the tendencies which destroy the organ of vision, the progress of science keeps pace with these tendencies, if not in advance of them.

LIFE IN VICKSBURGH DURING THE SIEGE.
BY A LADY.

D. APPLETON & CO., Nos. 443 and 445 Broadway, have just published.

MY CAVE LIFE
IN VICKSBURGH, WITH
LETTERS OF TRIAL AND TRAVEL,
BY A LADY.
1 Vol., 12mo. Cloth. $1.

From the Worcester Palladium.

The war has called forth no published narrative more interesting than this. It introduces us to a lady, intelligent, refined, warmly attached to her family, solicitous for the welfare of her domestics; shows us how she met hardships and trial; with what moral courage she endured all, and with what pure, unaffected devotion she committed herself, her husband and child to the care of a Heavenly Father.

From the Baltimore Gazette.

It is pleasant to turn from the flippant letters of "Special Correspondents" and the catchpenny narratives of professional bookmakers, to as honest and unpretending a little volume as that before us.

NEW BOOKS.

Second edition—English Translation of "LA GAVIOTA"—a Spanish novel, J. BRADBURN, No. 49 Walker-st.; 1 vol., cloth 12 mo, $1 25.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

This is a work abounding in incidents in Andalusian life. The Edingburgh Review considers the author to be considered the Spanish Walter Scott, and thinks LA GAVIOTA the best of all her novels. It appears to be well and faithfully translated; and we understand that the first edition is already nearly all disposed of. We commend this beautiful novel to our readers.—New Nation. LA GAVIOTA is a work of real power and interest, and has found its host of readers and admirers in Spain and also in France, where translations have long since appeared. It cannot fail to win its way among us, and lead to an acquaintance with her other works.—Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper. LA GAVIOTA is considered about the best specimen of this class of literature in the Spanish language. The superiority of this work has been very generally admitted by reviewers in England and America, and we commend it to the lovers of light literature, and must at some time be permitted to congratulate the publishers of the above works on their rare success in the selection and publication of books so peculiarly suited to the public mind at the present period.—Newport Daily News. We have received from Mr. Bradburn, the publisher, a handsomely printed volume entitled LA GAVIOTA, a Spanish novel, by Hernan Caballero, translated by J. Leander Starr. We have not had time to read the book carefully, but judging from a glance at its pages, and from the following notice in the Times, we should say it must be a work of rare merit. (See New-York Times of April 2.)—New-York Leader.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE UNION,
"IT MUST AND SHALL BE PRESERVED."

THE NORTHERN EAGLE,

An Independent, loyal Newspaper, advocating the suppression of treason and the sustenance of True Constitutional Liberty, is published at Milford, Pike County, Penn.,

EVERY TUESDAY MORNING,
EDWARD HALIDAY,
Editor and Proprietor.

Apart from its efforts to sustain the Nationality of our Country, and the Union of the States, by cheering the hearts of our Soldiers in the field, and unmasking the designs of traitors at our firesides,

THE NORTHERN EAGLE,

will be found one of

THE BEST FAMILY NEWSPAPERS

issued from the Country press, as no pains or expense will be spared to secure the ablest writers on general Literature, Education, Correspondence, and every other topic of the day.

The want of a newspaper in Pike County, giving to the Government an unqualified support in its efforts to suppress the rebellion now threatening our National existence, has long been felt by the friends of the Union.

In no other county in the Commonwealth has the Peace movement, inaugurated by Fernando Wood and his party, so many friends and supporters. In no county is the Government so openly assailed, its policy so misrepresented, and the laws so openly defied.

The EAGLE will give the Government a hearty and cheerful support in all its efforts to save the country, and will have no connection with those who are directly or indirectly in sympathy with the traitors of the South. Beyond this the EAGLE will know no party.

J. R. STAFFORD'S
IRON & SULPHUR POWDERS
INVIGORATE THE BODY AND PURIFY THE BLOOD.

These powders are a chemical combination which is readily dissolved in water or in the contents of the stomach, where they at once unite with the digested food and enter with it into the formation of new blood. The iron by its magnetic attraction retains the vital or life giving forces in the circulation, strengthening the system generally; while the combined sulphur converts the foul and acrid secretions of the body and blood into gases, which are ejected through the pores of the body and skin, by the increased energy and strength of the circulation.

DYSPEPTICS find immediate relief from the action of these powders upon the Liver and Spleen.

For SCROFULA, CANCERS, SALT RHEUM, ULCERS, SORES, or any eruption of the BODY or SKIN their curative effects are magical.

For TUMORS, SWELLINGS, DROPSIES, ABSCESSES, WENS, ETC., their dispersion and cure is certain, though of years standing.

They cure all forms of DEBILITY and WEAKNESS, as well as irregular secretions.

They convert PHLEGM and the acrid secretions of the THROAT, LUNGS or of CATARRH into gases, and give strength to the consumptive.

They cause a natural secretion of the saliva of the bowels, preventing habitual or chronic CONSTIPATION, and every form of PILES.

WORMS are created by and live only upon the impurities of the body; they cannot exist in a person whose system has been purified by these Powders.

☞ ¼ to ½ a Powder, daily, is sufficient for children. They neither Sicken nor Purge. Being compounded with Sugar, they are very agreeable to the taste.

Full explanations of the above and other diseases, for which J. R. Stafford's Olive Tar is also used, are contained in a 16 page pamphlet, which I send anywhere, free, by mail. This pamphlet contains over a hundred testimonials, among which will be found the names of IMPORTANT CAUTION.

Whereas, J. R. STAFFORD'S IRON & SULPHUR POWDERS are extensively counterfeited, and the counterfeits are such close imitations of the genuine outside envelope and inside directions that it is exceedingly difficult for the unitiated to tell which are the genuine and which are the counterfeit. Now, therefore, I have deemed it necessary to inform the public that, hereafter, all warranted J. R. Stafford's Iron and Sulphur Powders will have the fac simile signature of A. M. STAFFORD on the outside envelope; and on the inside directions. Take no others that are not so countersigned.

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Call, send, or write.

$1,000 FORFEITED AND NO CHARGE UNLESS CURED.—Dr. Hunter's Red Drop cures venereal diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury; but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless this remedy is used. This is what he claims for it; and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known that scientific men, in every department of medical knowledge, begin to appreciate it; for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, since 1834. Eight separate rooms and a private entrance. A ten cent bill will secure the Monitor of Health by return mail.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, whose valuable book entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family, with full instructions for restoring the monthly sickness. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.
FEDERHEN & CO., No. 13 Court-st., Boston.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 50 Lispenard-st., between Broadway and Church-st., New-York.

ADVICE TO MARRIED OR SINGLE LADIES, who require a safe and certain remedy for removing obstructions, from whatever cause. Can rely upon the celebrated INFALLIBLE FRENCH FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS. No. 1, price $1 a box, to restore the monthly sickness in forty-eight hours, if of short standing; but obstinate cases, of long standing, may require No. 2, which are four degrees stronger than No. 1, and can never fail, are safe and healthy, price $5 a box. Sold at No. 127½ Liberty-st., or sent by mail, with full instructions, by addressing Box No. 2,359 N. Y. Post-office. N. B.—Those who prefer an infallible, certain and safe mode of treatment, without the use of medicine or instruments, can avail themselves of it by one interview, and be attended by one of their own sex, by magnetism.

A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE—Containing nearly 300 pages, and 150 fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the sexual organs, in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on self-abuse, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by the report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent, free of postage, to any address on receipt of 25 cents, in specie or postage-stamps. Address Dr. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden-lane, Albany, N. Y.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in case of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr. POWERS, 50 Lispenard-st. N. Y.

5,000 RECRUITS WANTED
FOR THE NAVY AND MARINE CORPS.

COUNTY BOUNTY OF $200 AND $100,
CASH DOWN FOR SAILORS,
AND
$300 FOR MARINES AND PRIZE MONEY.

THE UNITED STATES AUTHORITIES HAVING, in order to fill up the navy and Marine Corps, authorized the raising of recruits for that branch of the service, and guaranteed that recruits for the navy and Marine Corps shall be counted on the quotas of the places where they elect to be credited, the same as if they were recruits for the army, the County Volunteer Committee have resolved to pay recruits for the navy and Marine Corps the following bounty, cash down, upon their being duly mustered into the service:

When enlisting for one year in the navy	$100
When enlisting for more than one year in the navy	$200
When enlisting for Marine Corps	$300

ANY PERSON BRINGING A RECRUIT FOR THE NAVY OR MARINE CORPS TO THIS OFFICE WILL RECEIVE A COUNTY PREMIUM OF $10.

PAY OF THE U. S. MARINE CORPS.
Grade.

First or Orderly Sergeant	$20 per month.
All other Sergeants, each	17 per month.
Corporals	13 per month.
Drummers and Fifers	12 per month.
Privates in Barracks at Navy-yard	13 per month.
Privates at Sea	14 50 per month.

Seamen and ordinary seamen, who will be shipped for two years, will receive, in addition to the above bounty of $200, three months' pay in advance, and three months' extra pay as Government bounty.

The rates of wages are as follows:

First-class Firemen	$30 per month.
Second-class Firemen	25 per month.
Coal-passers	18 per month.
Seamen	18 per month.
Ordinary Seamen	14 per month.
Landsmen	12 per month.
Boys	10 per month.

Boys will not be taken unless they are sixteen years of age, stout, in good health, and not below four feet eight inches in height. In all cases the consent of the parents or guardians must be first obtained.

The county bounty and the three months advance pay will be paid to all recruits, irrespective of class; and half-monthly pay can be left at home by application to the Paymasters of the vessels to which the recruits may be assigned.

All needful information can be obtained by applying at the Naval tent in the Park, and persons can be enlisted and sworn in at either of the following rendezvous, which are the only ones authorized by the Navy Department in this City.

All recruits thus enlisted, and receiving the bounties aforesaid, will be credited to the quota of the City and County of New-York.

METROPOLITAN FAIR.
Wishing to afford the opportunity of visiting the Fair to as many persons as possible, the managers have decided that the rate of admission on FRIDAY and SATURDAY shall be 25 cents. In order to accommodate the crowd that will be present, it is requested and expected that season tickets shall not be used on those days. The holders of season tickets having already obtained admission for a longer time than was originally promised, the managers hope that no one will attempt to evade the above request. The price of admission previous to Friday will be 50 cents. The Public Schools are admitted this week, but they leave the buildings before the hour of opening to the public. Auction sales of goods will be held every evening, at the 14th-st. buildings, and on Friday and Saturday, at the Union-square buildings.
GEO. GRISWOLD GRAY,
Chairman Committee of Arrangements.

METROPOLITAN FAIR.
The Executive Committee has decided that there shall be no auction sales during the continuance of the Fair, except in the Art Gallery and Curiosity Shop.
Goods are now offered for sale at large reduction from former rates.
The rate of admission on Friday and Saturday will be 25 cents.
A charge of 50 cents will be made to all persons during the hours of sale in the Picture Gallery.
GEORGE GRISWOLD GRAY,
Chairman Executive Committee.

THE FINANCE COMMITETE, APPOINTED on the part of the Fire Department for the Metropolitan Fair, beg leave to inform those who intend making donations in money through them for this great national object, that those authorized to receive contributions in the different companies, will be furnished with certificates from this Committee. Donations will also be received by either of the undersigned, who will duly acknowledge the same.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS
MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.
Mr. GOTTSCHALK's constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

STEINWAY & SONS'
GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.
The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 71 and 73 East 14th-st., between Union-square and Irving-place, New-York.

CALENBERG & VAUPEL,
Manufacturers of OVERSTRUNG GRAND AND SQUARE PIANO-FORTES. The very best and cheapest now in the market. Warranted in writing for five years. Please send for a circular.
Warerooms Nos. 99 and 101 Bleecker-st.,
Second block west of Broadway.

UNITED PIANO-FORTE MAKERS,
No. 86 Walker-st., New-York. All the stockholders being superior practical workmen, this Company is able to OFFER THEIR LARGE AND SPLENDID PIANOS
AT LOWER PRICES
THAN ANY OTHER FIRST-CLASS HOUSE.
Every instrument guaranteed for five years.
PIANOS TO RENT.

HAZLETON BROTHERS,
OVERSTRUNG GRAND AND SQUARE
PIANO-FORTE MANUFACTURERS,
No. 99 Prince-st., a few doors west of Broadway, N. Y.
These Pianos have always received the first premium wherever they have been exhibited. A written guarantee for five years accompanies each piano. These instruments will be sold at prices to suit the times.

HAINES BROTHERS,
PIANO-FORTE MANUFACTURERS.
Warerooms No. 758 Broadway.
PIANOS TO LET AND FOR SALE
ON INSTALLMENTS.

MASON & HAMLIN'S CABINET ORGANS, FOR FAMILIES, CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS—Recognized by the musical profession as greatly superior to Harmoniums, Melodeons and all other small organs. [See our illustrated catalogue for explicit testimony to their superiority, from a majority of the most eminent organists in America.] Prices, $85 to $500 each.
CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.—The great reputation which our Cabinet Organs have obtained, and the extensive demand for them, have induced dealers to advertise, in some cases, quite different instruments as Cabinet Organs, and in others to represent to purchasers that Harmoniums and other reed organs are the same thing. This is not true. The excellence of our Cabinet Organs, which have given them their high reputation, are the result not merely of the superiority of their workmanship, but also, in large measure, of essential differences in construction, which, being patented, cannot be imitated by other makers. From these arise their better quality and volume of tone and unrivaled capacity for expression. Warerooms in New-York, No. 7 Mercer-st.
MASON BROTHERS.

NEW MUSIC.—"WHEN OLD FRIENDS WERE HERE."—A very beautiful and touching Song in B Flat.

"When old friends were here,
In days that are flown,
How fond were the hands
Which oft clasped my own.
The pathways of life
Wore Pleasure's sunny hue,
And voices were near,
With tones warm and true."

"SHE WAS ALL THE WORLD TO ME."—This is a sweet, flowing melody, in E Flat.
The above are the last two songs of the late Stephen C. Foster. Price 25 cents each; mailed free. HORACE WATERS, Publisher, No. 481 Broadway, New-York.

PIANOS, MELODEONS, HARMONIUMS, cabinet and Alexandre organs, piano stools and covers, sheet music, music books, music merchandise, and all kinds of musical instruments, at wholesale and retail; second-hand pianos and melodeons at great bargains; new pianos and melodeons to let, and rent allowed if purchased; monthly payments received for the same; pianos tuned and repaired; cash paid for second-hand pianos and melodeons. HORACE WATERS, Agent, No. 481 Broadway, New-York.

EXCELSIOR MUSIC BOOK—NOS. 1, 2, 3 and 4, for violin, flute, cornet or fife, containing the latest popular music, such as Faust March, "Finnigan's Wake," Faust Waltzes, "Last Days of Pompeii," Ione Galop, "No Irish Need Apply," Liebend Gedenk Ich Dein, etc. Price 25c. for 2 Nos.; 45c. for 4 Nos., mailed. MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS—Descriptive price list sent on receipt of stamp.
FREDERICK BLUME, No. 208 Bowery.

NEW MUSIC.—"THE SANITARY FAIR POLKA," dedicated to the patrons of the Sanitary Fair, composed by Mrs. Parkhurst. This polka is a perfect gem; played nightly by the band at the Brooklyn Fair. Price 25 cents. HORACE WATERS, Publisher, No. 481 Broadway. A Pianist in attendance to try new music.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

mittee on Uniform Weights and Coinage, reported the Senate bill providing for the coinage of a new cent composed of ninety-five parts copper and five parts of tin, and two cent pieces of the same composition. He said the Government would, from this arrangement, derive the advantage of a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) opposed the bill. He said under the present law nickel was used; and for this purpose capitalists had been induced to work nickel mines, one of which was in his district. To pass this bill would be a serious loss to them.

Mr. KASSON said the remarks of the gentleman carried the doctrine of protection to a degree for which there was no precedent.

The bill was passed.

RECONSTRUCTION.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill providing a Republican Government for the States usurped and overthrown by the rebellion.

The bill was discussed at length by Messrs. NORTON, of Illinois, and BROOMALL, of Pennsylvania.

At 10 o'clock the House adjourned.

DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF.

Advices from New-Orleans to April 13—No Additional News of the Great Battle—The Preliminary Skirmishing.

The steamer Liberty arrived at this port yesterday morning, bringing New-Orleans papers of the 13th inst.

The True Delta has dates from Grand Ecore of the 7th, and Alexandria of the 9th inst.

Gen. BANKS' headquarters were at Nachitoches.

Capt. CARTHWAIT, of the gunboat Chillicothe, was killed on the 5th inst. by guerrillas.

A slight skirmish took place on the 2d inst. at Compte, ten miles above Grand Ecore, between the rebel forces under Gen. MARMADUKE, numbering about 4,000 men, and the advance of Col. DUDLEY's cavalry, in which we lost ten mortally wounded and seven slightly, including four officers. The loss of the enemy was much greater.

All is quiet at Alexandria.

The river is still falling.

[There is no news of the battle reported via Chicago in the New-Orleans papers.]

The steamship Evening Star, from New-York, arrived at New-Orleans on the 11th inst.

The Star of the South, from Portland, with part of the Second Indiana Cavalry, had arrived. She left Portland with the Northampton in tow, but was, on account of the severity of the weather, obliged to leave her southeast of Nantucket.

The steamer Cassandra, from Portland, with another detachment of the same cavalry, had also arrived. She had to cast off the ship Westmoreland for the same cause.

The Merrimac, from Portland, has also arrived.

Quarrantine is to be rigidly enforced below New-Orleans on and after May first.

The New-Orleans Times has an Alexandria letter of the 8th instant, stating that there is no special military news. The army were in fine spirits and order, and were moving steadily upon Shreeveport.

The crop prospects in Northern Louisiana and Arkansas are improving. The wheat and corn are said to be destroyed.

At New-Orleans the weather is warm and the musquitoes are plenty.

An Alexandria letter of the 9th inst. says that the rebels are burning all the cotton on the Red and Ouachita Rivers.

Report says that the waters of the Red River have been turned down Bayou Pierre, an old channel; also, that two brigades of Texas troops had got up and had a couple of skirmishes.

The United States troops continued their advance beyond Natchitoches on the 8th inst.

The New-Orleans Times has a letter from Baton Rouge, dated the 10th inst., which says:

"On Wednesday last our advance cavalry had a small scrimmage at Pleasant Hill, within five miles of Shreveport, in which we had a few men wounded, and the enemy about the same number. Again on Thursday morning another took place about five miles above Natchitoches. Our troops were driven in, but rallied when the enemy had to retreat with a small loss. Our loss was 30 killed and wounded."

The Free-State Convention was fully organized for business. Some thirty refugees from Red River had arrived.

The schooner Mattie, from Matamoras for New-York, had put into New-Orleans leaky, for repairs.

Gold was quoted at 167⅜. Cotton firm; higher grades nominal, owing to scarcity. Sugar firm, at 15½c.@18c. Molasses firm.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

No. 23 FORSYTH-ST., NEW-YORK, Oct. 1, 1863.

Dr. Von Eisenberg:

DEAR SIR: Without recapitulating the numerous benefits I have received through your wonderful cure of the deafness I have labored under many years, the blessings I enjoy will convince the most skeptical.

I have tried many aurists, in Europe and America, without success. I was still deaf as a post.

Three years ago I entered your office, underwent one operation, hoping, yet doubting, I should receive any relief, but was agreeably disappointed in finding the genius of your profession.

The innate skill you possess cured my deafness in one almost painless operation.

The joy I experienced was indescribable; 'twas a new life to me.

My hearing is perfect to this day.

I strongly advise all who are suffering under a difficulty of hearing, or total deafness, to consult you immediately, as I also personally recommend all who apply to me. The numerous calls trespass on my time and patience, yet, remembering my own long, weary affliction causes me to pity them.

This is not written to advertise your well-known, unrivaled reputation—that would be peurile; but as a measure of precaution, to induce all to call on you at once, without troubling me; yet I do not refuse to see any one who comes to me. This is the only way I can show my gratitude.

I also call the attention of those who are suffering from Catarrh, which disease I have labored under one year or more.

I experienced difficulty in breathing, langour, heaviness over the eyes, a sense of tightness on the brain, and copious expectorations of a hard and viscid nature. Accompanying this is a "polypus," quite filling the right nostril. On the 25th ult. you operated on both, killing the polypus, which is gradually passing away, and giving me great relief from the Catarrh. One more operation will effectually cure.

This testimonial brings with it my unalloyed and grateful thanks, with but a poor delineation of your wondrous skill as an Aurist.

I am, Sir, yours very gratefully,
EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

RECENT TESTIMONIALS.

CATARRH CURED.

FROM REV. FRED. S. JEWELL,

PROFESSOR OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ALBANY, N. Y.

This may certify that I have been, since 1844, subject to violent periodical attacks of catarrh, marked by a highly inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the cavities of the head, producing a most distressing species of headache, for days at a time, wholly incapacitating me from business, and, during the paroxysms, confining me to the bed. In some instances the inflammation has extended to the teeth, occasioning toothache; to the throat, producing hoarseness and partial loss of voice; and twice it has so affected the left eye as to confine me for a month or more to a darkened room. These attacks have been accompanied by strong febrile symptoms; by stoppages of the head, and in the first stages by watery discharges from the nose, and subsequently becoming acrid and yellow, and, toward the close of the attack, becoming bloody and purulent. I have tried medicines of almost every kind; external applications to the head, such as camphor, ginger, hot vinegar, snuffs of some half dozen kinds, and other catarrhal preparations, together with internal remedies, such as alteratives, cathartics and emetics. These have produced no change in the occurrence or character of the disease, and, in most cases with little or no temporary relief. I had come, at length, to believe the disease to be practically beyond either cure or material alleviation.

Under these circumstances, I was led, some five months ago, to make a trial of Dr. Lighthill's treatment. His method at once approved itself to my judgment as simple, philosophical, and likely to be effective. Notwithstanding the disadvantages under which he labored in dealing with a disease of such long standing, aggravated by nervous debility and dyspepsia, and constantly induced by the accidents of my professional labor, I found the treatment reaching the disease as it had never been reached before, and producing such a modification and alleviation of its character as I had supposed impossible. I chronicle the result thus:

Although I have been situated several times so that I should formerly have believed a severe attack of my catarrh inevitable, I have escaped thus far; the symptoms of threatened attack have been very light, and have yielded to the remedies employed by Dr. Lighthill, without the need of recourse to the old hot fermentations, or emetics, and the discharges from the head have resumed the original and natural condition. That I have been able to obtain so material a relief is to me a cause o gratitude. In that alone I am repaid for whatever the treatment may have cost me.

I make this statement unsolicited, as a means of acknowledging my obligations to Dr. Lighthill's method of treating catarrh, and with a view to aid any who may have suffered from that disease in forming a just opinion of its merits, and its probable utility in their own case.

FREDERICK S. JEWELL.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 14, 1864.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DEAFNESS.

From Rev. Joseph M. Clarke, Rector of St. James' Church.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 20, 1864.

I have been deaf in one ear ever since I was in College, some twenty years ago. By the skill of Dr. Lighthill, its hearing was entirely restored, so that now I hear alike with both ears, and I find that I can use my voice with much more ease and comfort than before.

JOSEPH M. CLARKE.

From the Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

Since I first publicly acknowledged the great benefits which I received from the skillful treatment of Dr. Lighthill, in regard to my hearing, letters of inquiry have incessantly poured upon me from all parts of the country, from parties desiring to learn the particulars of my case, and I am indeed surprised at the number of individuals who are affected similar to the manner in which I have been, and, therefore, feel it more and more a sacred duty which I owe to these sufferers, to direct them to a proper and reliable source to obtain the benefit they so much covet, and which so many afflicted ones have hitherto sought in vain, just as I had done previous to applying to Dr. Lighthill.

I had from infancy one very deaf ear, which always discharged more or less offensive matter, and was the source of the greatest annoyance and discomfort to me. Last year the other ear also became diseased, and both ears discharged a yellow matter, very profuse and highly offensive. My hearing became very much impaired, and the discharge produced the greatest debility of body and depression of spirits. I applied to my family physician and other practitioners, without deriving any benefit, and almost despaired of being restored to health, when, providentially, I applied to Dr. Lighthill. Under his treatment my ears began to improve at once, and continued to do so until, in a comparatively short time, both ears were healed, the discharge removed, and my hearing restored. At first I feared the cure would not be permanent, or that the stoppage of a discharge of so long standing might prove detrimental to my general health—a fear which I find a great many entertain in regard to the removal of discharge from the ear. My experience, however, has proved conclusively that my apprehensions were entirely groundless in both respects, for both ears are as well, and my hearing is as good at present, as the day I left off treatment, and the stoppage of discharge, instead of proving detrimental to my health, has given the highest elasticity and vigor to my body, and a flow of spirits not experienced for a long time previous.

I wish that the above might serve as a general answer to the interested, but should one or the other desire to apply to me personally, or by letter, I will cheerfully satisfy reasonable demands upon my time.

I avail myself of this opportunity of again publicly expressing my deeply-felt gratitude to Dr. Lighthill, whom I esteem as a gentleman and a man of science, in whom the highest confidence may be placed. JOHN NOTT.

References to parties of the highest respectability residing in the City, who have been cured of Deafness, Catarrh, &c., may be had on application.

Eruptions on the Face,
Pallid Countenance,

These symptoms, if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follow

IMPOTENCY, FATUITY, EPILEPTIC FITS.

In one of which the patient may expire. Who can say they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION!

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, but none will confess. The records of the Insane Asylums and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION ONCE AFFECTED BY ORGANIC WEKNESS

requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU invariably does. A trial will convince the most skeptical.

E

FEMALES! FEMALES! FEMALES!
OLD OR YOUNG, SINGLE, MARRIED OR CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

In many affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequaled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularities, Painfulness, or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Scirrhous state of the Uterus, Leucorrhea or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion, Habits of Dissipation, or in the

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU
CURES SECRET DISEASES

in all their stages, at little Expense; little or no change of Diet; no inconvenience, AND NO EXPOSURE.

It causes frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing obstructions, preventing and curing strictures of the urethra, allaying pain and inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling POISONOUS, DISEASED AND WORN-OUT MATTER.

Thousands upon thousands who have been the

VICTIMS OF QUACKS,

and who have paid HEAVY FEES to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "Powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in an aggravated form, and,

AFFAIRS IN TENNESSEE.

The Project of Dividing the State—Influential Opposition to the Plan—Disappearance of Longstreet—Interesting Criminal Case—Civil vs. Criminal Jurisdiction—Promotions.

From Our Own Corespondent.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Tuesday, April 12, 1864.

Some time ago I mentioned to you the fact that the majority of the people of East Tenessee were in favor of separating that portion from the middle and western sections. Well, they have resuscitated the old Greenville Convention, and delegates from all sections of the Eastern division meet in Knoxville this day to make the preliminary arrangements to leave what they call the disloyal element out in the cold. But in so doing, they leave the Union men of Middle and Western Tennesse to struggle alone with a community of enemies to the cause ten times their own strength. This fact has been fully realized by the friends of the Government, and many prominent men who are at heart favorable to the separation of East Tennessee, will oppose such an arrangement just at this time. Among these last-mentioned are Parson BROWNLOW, editor of the Knoxville Whig, and JAMES HOOD, of the Chattanooga Gazette. These gentlemen will oppose the separation of the Eastern Division, providing the people of the State will meet in convention at an early day, to take measures for reorganization—and they further insist that no whitewashed rebel or rebel sympathizer shall have a voice in said convention. The fact is, the bone and sinew of this State are in favor of progress, and a large majority of those who have always remained loyal, if not all, are bitterly opposed to the reorganization of the State Government with the institution of Slavery preserved. Gov. JOHNSON left this city on Friday afternoon for Knoxville. He will oppose the separation of East Tennessee, and it is believed that the people will postpone the matter at least a considerable time hence. The masses of the people at home and in the army are strongly inclined toward separation. They argue that, while paying taxes for improvements in Middle Tennessee, none were vouchsafed their own section. The Kentucky Railroad, of vital importance to Knoxville, and the entire portion of East Tennessee, is not likely to be completed without State aid; and this they think can only be obtained by separation.

LONGSTREET's army—at least the bulk of it—has, no doubt, removed to the most eastern extremity of the State. The rebel army committed a hasty evacuation, and burned all the bridges, in their retreat, between Strawberry Plains and Greenville. Portions of rebel cavalry still hover around our front, which is at Bull's Gap, but no skirmishing whatever takes place. Some of LONGSTREET's staff officers are at Greenville, but he himself is at Richmond.

Some time ago a man named WILLIAM C. TAYLOR, maliciously killed a negro servant, named 'JACK,' belonging to Mr. JOSEPH F. BROOKS, of Rutherford County. There were six witnesses of the affair, all of whom testified to the guilt of the man TAYLOR. In addition to the plea of not guilty of murder, TAYLOR makes a plea that the shooting of the colored man took place outside of the Federal lines, and argues that he should not be brought before a military commission. He says in his plea that he should be tried by the criminal court of Rutherford, where the alleged offence was committed. This appeal from trial by the military commission of this city is a most important case, as it brings the Governor and the military authorities in conflict, and must be a test case. The plea of the prisoner is a copious one. He urges the fact that ANDREW JOHNSON is the Governor of Tennessee, and that he has been recognized as such by the President and Congress of the United States and by the different commanders of the army of occupation of Tennessee. He also urges the fact that the Governor has appointed Judges and provided for the sitting of courts at a proper time, including one in the district in which he has been indicted. And, hereupon, the Judge Advocate of the court, who prosecutes for the United States in this behalf, says that, notwithstanding anything in the plea of the said WILLIAM C. TAYLOR, the commissioner ought not to be precluded from taking cognizance of the charges and specifications aforesaid; because, he says:

1. The Major-General commanding the department has ordered this particular case to be tried by a military commission.

2. There are no Judges, as in said plea alleged, legally appointed and commissioned in pursuance of the Constitution and laws of the State of Tennessee, having power and jurisdiction to hold courts and try and punish any person for the commission of the crime of murder in said County of Rutherford.

3. There is not now, and for two years last past has not been, any court in said County of Rutherford, actually organized and exercising judicial functions, and having jurisdiction of the person of said defendant, or authority and power to summon jurors and subpœna witnesses for the trial of said defendant for said crime.

4. The said persons in said plea named as Judges have not, since they have claimed to be commissioned, and do not now exercise any judicial functions, civil or criminal in said County of Rutherford, and have not now, and have not had any control over the records of said courts of said County of Rutherford, since said pretended commissions were issued to them as judges by said Military Governor.

5. There is no Sheriff or other officers elected or commissioned in said County of Rutherford, nor any persons claiming to act, and actually exercising the ministerial functions necessary under the constitution and laws of Tennessee, to complete the power and enable the courts in said county to exercise judicial functions and enforce judgments.

And this the Judge-Advocate, Lieut. H. C. BLACKMAN prays may be inquired.

The commission, composed of Col. JOHN F. MILLER, (President,) Twenty-ninth Indiana; Col. WILLIAM L. STOUGHTON, Eleventh Michigan; Lieut.-Col. J. J. DAVIDSON, Seventy-third Illinois; Capt. JASPER PARTRIDGE, Forty-fourth Illinois; Capt. THOMAS LEWIS, Fifty-ninth Ohio; Capt. THOMAS J. RHODES, Sixtieth Illinois; and Second Lieut. H. C. BLACKMAN, (Judge Advocate,) Eighth Kansas, proceeded to the trial of the prisoner, Hon. JORDAN STOKES acting as counsel for the defendant.

After the examination of a number of witnesses, the court was closed; and, after mature deliberation, the following decision was delivered by Col. MILLER, the President:

"That Brig.-Gen. ANDREW JOHNSON is, and has been for the past two years, Governor of Tennessee, de facto, recognized by the Executive of the nation and by the military commanders of the army of occupation in Tennessee; that as such Governor he has, in pursuance of the constitution and laws of Tennessee, regularly appointed and commissioned, and there now exists, a Judge of the Criminal Court for the district composed of the Counties of Davidson, Rutherford and Montgomery; that by the laws of Tennessee, said court has jurisdiction of offences committed in the County of Rutherford, including the crime of murder, and is always open; that no sufficient reason against the holding of said court in Rutherford County exists; and that there is a reasonable probability that a term of said court will be held in Murfreesboro this Spring. Whereupon the Commission do find that they ought not to take jurisdiction of the said case, but that the prisoner should be tried by said Criminal Court, and do order that the said WILLIAM C. TAYLOR be held in custody in the military prison at Nashville, or such other prison as the General Commanding may order, to await his trial before the Criminal Court in and for said County of Rutherford."

This decision has been approved by Maj.-Gen. THOMAS, and the defendant has been sent to prison as above ordered.

Voting and Voters in Tennessee—A Good Union Omen—The Knoxville Convention—West Virginia's Example—Vive le Noir—Tennessee's Beloved Regiments—Story of a Female Fighter.

From Another Correspondent.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Friday, April 15, 1864.

The recent vote in Tennessee for county and district officials is an encouraging omen of the growing Union feeling that is steadily pervading the population. From 48,000 to 50,000 votes were cast, about one-third of the whole vote of the State just previous to the breaking out of the rebellion. The vote was wholly unconstrained. No military influence—as in Louisiana, so said, at least—hampered or directed the people's free expression. "The Governor's oath," as it is called—that is, the oath imposed upon the voter by the Military Governor, and which is supplemental of the oath involved in the Amnesty Proclamation—the taking of both oaths having been required as a qualification for voting—made the sum total of votes smaller than it would have been. The former contains a feature or two a little distasteful to certain Tennesseans, who would not like to have their loyalty disputed.

In addition to this, 27 regiments of Tennesseans, with an aggregate of not far from 23,000 soldiers, are in the Federal army, in the field, and did not vote. To these must still be added several hundreds of nine and twelve months' soldiers, on home duty mostly, two regiments being stationed at Memphis. Had these all voted on the recent occasion, as they no doubt would, strongly for the Union, the aggregate vote would have fallen very little, if any, short of half that cast by the State in peaceful times. If the fourteen or fifteen counties restrained from voting by the presence or proximity of LONGSTREET on the one hand, and of FORREST on the other, had voted as the others did, the vote cast would have been greater than half the State's ordinary popular vote. The fact is significant and the result carries its own commentary.

The Convention at Knoxville is still in session. The discussions have been animated, and, at times, exciting. The design to erect East Tennessee into a separate State, after the example of West Virginia, has earnest supporters. The project is strenuously opposed by the strongest names in the State, among them ANDY JOHNSON, MAYNARD and BROWNLOW. Those favoring the project may plead the example of West Virginia, but the circumstances controlling her separation are widely dissimilar from those existing here. If East Tennessee urges her physical position as freeing her from Slavery, and her wish to be cut loose from districts where Slavery has had its imperious seat and may retain it, to lord it, as in past years, over her hardy, long-suffering, liberty-loving sons. The answer is plain. Middle and West Tennessee are at this moment virtually as free from Slavery as East Tennessee herself. The "institution" is overthrown. It can never rise from its ruins. No hand is strong or bold enough to place one stone upon another of the foundation, which the plowshare of this war has utterly upturned. The control, therefore, of the slave sections over the free has forever passed away. The State has been gradually assimilating and is now homogeneous in this point, and so it will continue. The recent vote of the people tells what the people mean and what they will have. The sceptre has passed forever from the late lords of the soil. A new dynasty has come in, that of human rights, of equal justice, of free-unbought, unbiased, popular intelligence. Of this Free State tree, expanding and flourishing with wonderful vigor and luxuriance, East Tennessee will be one of the comeliest and most fruit-bearing branches. It were folly to lop herself off at this juncture, retarding her own growth and marring the symmetry of the whole. She can hardly persist seriously in the attempt. If she does, the attempt will be sure to fail.

The number of colored regiments raised in this State for the service of the Union is seven up to the present time, with several others in process of filling up. The profession of a soldier is growing popular with the "cullud people" here, and, I may add, with the people not colored, or colored less deeply. The strong prejudice against the black soldier, exhibited widely at first here, is subsiding. It certainly should, for Sambo is developing every day soldierly qualities, causing scepticism to yield to faith, and contempt to respect. He is winning "golden opinions" from all sorts of men, and women too. He is obedient, teachable, self-respecting, manly. An arrest for insubordination or disorderly conduct is rare in one of their regiments. A colored regiment, the Seventeenth Tennessee, passed our quarters this morning on their way to Chattanooga, preceded by a band of blacks, playing a spirited air. It was a common remark by the many lookers-on that for orderly neatness and completeness of equipment, for elastic movement and soldierly bearing, and for perfect accuracy of step, with ranks compacted and regular, a finer looking regiment had rarely been seen in Nashville. I visited a camp, consisting of three or four black regiments, the other day, on the outskirts of the city. All was well arranged and managed, scrupulously clean, creditable. The sable sentries paced their rounds, doing their duty respectfully but firmly. The usual routine of a buzzing camp went on, and nothing save the color of the skin might distinguish the camp in question from one where well-trained white troops were. A couple of bands were vigorously practicing on the other side of a hill near by, and I went over to look and listen. Another fallacy exploded—that big black lips could no more blow a fife than a "nigger" could fight or make a soldier. But the fifes under thick-lipped inspiration really gave out the true "ear-piercing" notes that SHAKESPEARE speaks of, while the drums rolled forth their "tan-ta-ra-ra melody," as some other poet not quite so great as SHAKESPEARE phrases it, and both in excellent time and tune. In a word, this negro soldier business is proving to be a grand success. A man must be blind as a mole not to see in this a wondrous Providential development—a power to aid in striking mortally the direst rebellion that ever defied Heaven and earth—a lesson, to teach the nation what it seemed long unable to learn, that he who makes a good soldier is worthy to be thought and called a man!

Several instances of females enlisting as soldiers and performing service in the ranks, since the rebellion began, have been given in the public prints. There is one which I think worth reporting, the subject of the notice being now and for several weeks an inmate of the Officers' Hospital here, suffering from a wound she received after she was taken prisoner. The outline of her story, taken from the heroine's own lips, of the substantial accuracy of which I have no doubt, is as follows:

Her name is FRANCES E. HOOK, of Chicago. Being bereaved of parents, but possessed of warm patriotism, she felt drawn toward the service of the soldier, and contrived to enlist in the Ninetieth Illinois Volunteers, Col. O'MEARA, in August, 1862. A month or two after the regiment set out for Cairo and the Southwest, having been assigned to Gen. LOOMIS' brigade, Gen. W. F. SHERMAN's corps. She performed a soldier's duties in her regiment, taking part with them in engagements at Jackson and Big Black in Mississippi, and being present at the siege and capture of Vicksburgh. At Florence, Ala., in October following, she was captured herself while foraging with a small party, and on attempting two or three days after to escape from her escort, who were preparing to cross the Tennessee River with several prisoners, she was fired at and struck in the calf of the leg. Though no more than a flesh wound, it was painful, and in this condition she was obliged to march several miles handcuffed and even shackled, as she avers, till the party reached a point on the river, whence a boat was taken to Rome, Ga., and the cars thence to Atlanta, the place of destination. Here she lay six or seven weeks in hospital, gangrene having got into her wound, and her chance of living seeming for a time very slight indeed. She was finally exchanged at Graysville, near Dalton, on the 18th February, got to Chattanooga on the 19th, remained there in hospital a couple of weeks, thence came to Nashville the beginning of March, assigned to her present quarters by the General in command, and bidden to remain till her wound—a serious one now—is healed, her pay and bounty are received, when she will be mustered out of the service.

Such is the story of the soldier FRANCES E. HOOK, of the Ninetieth Illinois Volunteers, corroborated by parties well acquainted with several of the circumstances related. When it is added that she is but seventeen years old, the experiences will not be deemed less marvelous. Whether it was love of adventure, or love of country, or some less worthy motive, that led her to don her soldier's uniform, she belongs clearly to the class of heroines thought worthy to wear wreaths. Certainly her two years' soldier's life has enough of romance and incident about it to furnish all the materiel needed for a first-rate popular tale, such as fair and facile fingers are wont now-a-days to weave.

C. V. S.

The Soldiers' Home at Nashville, Tennessee.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I herewith send you a report of the business of the Soldiers' Home in this City for March, as it may be of interest to many of your readers in the States from which the soldiers came. Our house is small, and well filled every night. Most of the men who come in one day leave the next, and the night trains never fail to supply the places of those who have left in the afternoon trains. Warm meals of the most nourishing food are furnished to all on arrival without charge. The sick are taken care of, and forwarded to their homes or sent to hospitals as may seem best. Information is given and aid rendered to all who have their discharge papers. When requested, we collect their pay, and send them on their way by the first train leaving for the North. Transportation is procured for all traveling soldiers who have proper papers, and those who have not are sent to headquarters to procure them. We endeavor, in short, to make the Home a true resting-place for the traveling soldier, and are richly repaid every day by the grateful acknowledgments of our brave defenders.

SOLDIERS' HOME, NASHVILLE, Tenn.

FROM LOOKOUT VALLEY.

A Reconnoissance—No Enemy to be Found—The Reorganization of the Eleventh and Twelfth Corps—Loyalty and Treason in East Tennessee.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LOOKOUT VALLEY, Saturday, April 9, 1864.

Our late reconnoissance over—in which less than a thousand marched twenty miles into Georgia, beyond Trenton, without finding a foe—all things remain as they were, and rest restores our weariness. So it is in the vicissitudes of the soldier's life. Red battle follows close upon the steps of the ball, or the charge sweeps the place of yesterday's review, or the march breaks up the association of the canton ment. Three days in the saddle, every minute on the elert

Through forests dense as they were made,
Where every turn might prove an ambuscade, are quickly exchanged for the routine of duty, the cheerful mess, and the consciousness of security and power which numbers give. But these very changes feed the enthusiasm, and go far to make up the esprit of an army, and teach that tacit obedience, which alone can form the subordinate or fit for command. Taught in such a school, the two old corps will gracefully coalesce under the heroic HOOKER, and merge their old glories in the future and the new, under whatever name or number.

A raid of bushwacking cavalry is once in a while heard of, but just here they keep their distance. Several days since the advent of rebels into the Valley rather surprised us, but it turned out that they were only a reckless company, who had gone clear around our right flank and came up as far as the base of Lookout. Perhaps they came to take a last look at the adamantine brow of the mountain down which they were driven amid the thunder and lightning of the 25th of November. Now that the angry cloud has passed away, our reconnoitring party failed in finding any enemy, and only heard of a few squads prowling about for provender.

Several thousand men are at work upon the nearly completed railroad the Government is building to connect Nashville with the Tennessee at Reynoldsville. When it is done supplies will be secure and speedy, and a raid upon the railroad between Nashville and Louisville will not cut us off the North.

The rebels are turning torpedoes to a new use. Yesterday one was placed on the Knoxville road and the track blown up, but no loss of life accrued.

This section is thoroughly aroused by the near approach of the convention. Col. TRESWHITT, a loyalist who has fought treason in the State and out of it, and a delegate to Knoxville, of late publicly declared that any honest man who is tender about the negro, if he shoulder his musket for three months to put down a rebellion all about this same negro, will, long before the end, cry aloud for emancipation, immediate, entire and eternal, and beseech the Government to remove them to a Territory and treat them in the manner of an Indian tribe. When such men so talk we may confidently look for the appearing of a Free State hereafter.

The loyalty of East Tennessee has become a household word, and every day adds facts that show it worthy so to be, and unsurpassable, North or South, for holiness of purpose, endurance and self-sacrifice. A statement, on the highest authority, has been made that, in proportion, East Tennessee has twice as many of her gallant sons in the Federal army as any State; and that to the number of 25,000 they have left their homes, broken through the rebel lines, crossed the rugged range of the Cumberland Mountains, and rallied around the flag of their fathers, as unconditional Union soldiers. And who can tell beside of the homeless wives and shattered hearthstones and the bleaching bones on her soil of those who chose to perish in their truth rather than win by their treachery.

The people of the sovereign State of Tennessee do not seem disposed to let the men who have betrayed her go scot free under the Amnesty Proclamation. Those who have forced them to dwell in caves and wander in wilds, they do not choose to pardon. Those who have burned and plundered and robbed, they do choose to punish. And the thousands who went over, dreading the responsibility of loyalty, they want read and known of by all men in the next generation. Grand Juries are already considering their duty. And in Davidson County the Judge charged thus: "The President's pardon extends to all so far as the United States extends, but not to any as regards treason against the State of Tennessee."

But all these things are for statesmen to manage. Doubtless our reorganization will be completed before my next, which, mayhap, will treat more of war than policy.

HAWKSTAFF.

The Fourth Army Corps—Gen. Granger's Farewell.

GENERAL ORDERS.

HEADQUARTERS FOURTH ARMY CORPS,
LOUDEN, Tenn., April 10, 1864.

OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS OF THE FOURTH CORPS:—Paragraph II, General Orders No. 5, dated Headquarters Military Division of the Mississippi, April 5, 1864, relieves me from command of the Fourth Army Corps, and from duty with the Army of the Cumberland.

By this order all official connection between you and myself has been broken; but not so those ties of affection born out of the glorious services of the past. As a corps you have been organized but six months, in which time you have done deeds of arms that will shine on the brightest pages of the history of the war. You have won an undying fame. Lookout Mountain and the heights of Mission Ridge are imperishable monuments to your great achievements!

Your soldierly fortitude displayed under the most trying circumstances with limited food and clothing, during a laborious Winter campaign—passed in march and open bivouac—has been praiseworthy as your conduct on fields of battle.

Continue under my successor, Major-Gen. HOWARD, to exhibit the same zeal in the service of your country—the same soldierly virtues of subordination and courage that you have so signally shown under my command. He is a true soldier, a distinguished officer, and I commend him to you. The honor of the corps is in your hands!

Soldiers, farewell! The memory of our common service in the past will ever remain fresh and green, cherished by me through all the vicissitudes of life. Again, farewell!

GORDON GRANGER,
Major-General U. S. V.

GEN. HOWARD ASSUMES COMMAND.

HEADQUARTERS FOURTH ARMY CORPS,
LOUDON, Tenn., April 10, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER No. 4.—In accordance with General Order No. 5. Par. II., Headquarters Military Division of the Mississippi, I hereby assume command of the Fourth Army Corps, relieving Major-Gen. GORDON GRANGER.

The distinguished honor of taking command of this corps, unexpected as it is, carries with it a feeling of grave responsibility.

From the past noble record, under the able and respected Commander whom I succeed, I anticipate the heartiest coöperation, and great success, the legitimate fruit of united efforts.

My staff will hereafter be announced. Headquarters will move to-morrow to Cleveland.

O. O. HOWARD, Major-General.

Important Correspondence.

From the Nashville Union, April 15.

We were mistaken in announcing that Col. HUGHES had surrendered to Col. STOKES on the 23d ult. The following correspondence has since passed between the parties:

HEADQUARTERS C. S. FORCES,
LIVINGSTON, Tenn., March 30, 1864.

Col. Stokes, Commanding at Sparta:

DEAR SIR: Yours of the 29th inst. is just received, 4 o'clock P. M., and gives me but little time to consult even myself, much less my officers and men. I have seen but few of them in the last week. I also wish to see and consult Maj. BLEDSOE. He and his command have been under my command. And, Colonel, I must insist on your letting me have ample time to see these men. I will be able to give you satisfaction by Saturday or Sunday, and will be sure to give you a positive answer. I think it would be ungenerous and unfair in me to decide so important a matter as this for those men; for the reason that there are a quantity of officers for the number of men; say, five (5) Captains and the same number of Lieutenants. And, Colonel, I will pledge myself that I will allow none of my men to make any hostile movements until I give you full satisfaction; and, in fact, it is not my intention to do further soldiering in these parts, &c. Colonel, I would have come myself but for ill health. I have sore eyes and am quite poorly to-day. I deem it proper in me to say to you, that there are a quantity of men in the country claiming to belong to my command that do not, and most of them are engaged in robbing and stealing, and one Capt. BILBERRY has absented himself from my command, and is not under my command, nor will I be responsible for his conduct. He is now off, as I am informed, on an expedition of some kind. Colonel, will you be so kind as to indulge me for the time asked for, and let me know by the bearer of this?

I am, Colonel, very respectfully, your enemy,

JOHN M. HUGHES,
Colonel Fifth Tenn. Reg., C. S. A.

P. S.—Colonel, I prefer bringing all my command at once. I think that would be best.

REPLY OF COL. STOKES.

HEADQUARTERS, U. S. FORCES,
SPARTA, Tenn., April 1, 1864.

John M. Hughes, Colonel Twenty-fifth Regiment Tennessee Volunteers, C. S. A.:

SIR: Yours of the 30th ult., has just been handed me by Mr. HARP, in which you ask for time to decide what you will do. This, I must confess, somewhat surprises me, as I understood from your first note that all you wanted was to know whether you and your command would be allowed to take the oath or be paroled. I stated to you in reply, that you and your men would be required to take the oath, or be sent round for exchange, meaning thereby, that all, or a part could take the oath, and the remainder be sent round for exchange. You inform me that you would have come to see me but for the reason of ill health. In order that this matter may be speedily adjusted, I send Lieut.-Col. CORBIN and Maj. CLIFT, with an escort, to deliver this communication, and to hear whatever you may have to propose. Time is precious and forage is scarce. I, therefore, demand an immediate answer, or all correspondence will cease, and hostilities again be renewed.

WM. B. STOKES,
Col. Fifth Tenn. Cav. Com'g.

We learn that Col. STOKES is doing excellent work, and will have the last guerrilla a prisoner or a corpse.

THE FIGHT AT PAINTSVILLE. KY.

The Rebels Repulsed with Loss.

From the Louisville Democrat, April 16.

In the Democrat of yesterday morning we made brief mention of an attack being made upon the camp of Col. GALLUP, at Paintsville, Johnson County, Ky. Since then we have learned the following additional particulars: The attack was made about 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning by over 1,000 rebel infantry, who were supposed to have been under command of Gen. JONES, who was reported to be in Owsley County a few days since. Our forces numbered about 700 men, all told. The rebels made a desperate charge upon our works, which charge was met by our gallant boys with determination; but the rebel force being too strong, our brave little band fell slowly back until they reached an advantageous place. The rebels were in great glee over their supposed triumph, and made another desperate effort to repulse Col. GALLUP and his men. This second charge was met by the Federal troops, and, after a sharp fight of short duration, the rebels were driven from the field, leaving their dead and wounded in our hands.

A dispatch received at headquarters in this city yesterday states that the rebels are in full retreat for Pound Gap, closely pursued by our forces. A number of prisoners have been captured and brought in. The dispatch does not give the losses, but they were no doubt heavy on the rebel side. Col. TRUE, who was at Mount Sterling with a force, has been ordered forward, and is pushing rapidly to Pound Gap to intercept them. Our men are well supplied with ammunition and rations, and no fears are entertained of any rebel raid into the eastern portion of the State. The rout of the rebels is said to be most complete, and their forces cannot be rallied, at least in this State. Our troops in the eastern portion are not only prepared but anxious to meet any rebel force that may venture in the State, and are fully prepared to defeat, if not capture, all of them.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

BUENOS AYRES, S. A., Saturday, Feb. 27, 1864.

To begin with the Republic of the interior, Paraguay, there are some signs of progress. Less than a third of the country is under cultivation, but there are large quantities of tobacco grown, and the first sales of ginned cotton have just occurred. There is no market for cotton here except for a Manchester company, which gives about 36 cents per pound. For many years—half a century at least—Paraguay has grown and manufactured most of the cotton used in the country.

URUGUAY.

Gen. FLORES has been in sight of the capital with all his forces, but was as much afraid to attack as the the defenders were of the result, and he has retired. The term of office of President BERRO having expired, Señor AGUIRRE has been elected President. It is not likely that any change of policy will occur. There is such a state of hostility between Uruguay and the Confederation that, though the capitals are only on the opposite sides of the river, all intercourse by steamer is suspended. The taking of the city by assault was deemed so certain last week that the United States Consul sent here for the United States steamer Mohican to go down to afford protection to our citizens.

THE INTERIOR.

The San Juan mines are still producing largely. So remote are they that their silver has, for safety, to be sent to market via Chili. This carries the precious metals directly out of the Confederation, and the resultant coinage is Chilian.

A Chilian gentleman, Señor Don FRANCISCO OVALLE, has produced a new species of wheat, which he calls Triticum Ovallei, and for which he claims great merits. It resists drought, produces richly, has light, strong straw, bearing a large white and very hard berry. It is supposed that it will be found to be better adapted to American soil than any other kind.

Señor Don DOMINGO F. SARMIENTO, Governor of San Juan, has accepted the appointment of Minister to the United States. A son of President MITRE is to be his Secretary. Gov. SARMIENTO is a great admirer of the Government and policy of the United States. He is distinguished as the great educator of this country. The cause of public schools here owes more to him than to any other man in this Republic.

Since writing you the accounts of disaster from the drought, rains have fallen, and the flocks are beginning to return from the frontier. Never again will the land be so heavily stocked, and this will rapidly extend the line of the frontier.

BUENOS AYRES.

The recent elections passed off quietly. They tested the strength of the Federal Government, as the issue was direct between the Confederation and the Province. The States-Rights party and doctrines came out second best.

The American clergyman here, Rev. Mr. GOODFELLOW, has entirely recovered his health, and is now assisted in his extending work by Rev. Mr. CARTER, just arrived from New-York. Last Sunday evening an Indian cacique, named PEDRON, attended the services in the American church, and at the close, addressed the people in Spanish, which all present could understand, asking the people to send to his people a missionary. He spoke calmly and clearly, urging them to consider the destitution of the Auracanian tribes, without schools and without bibles or churches, and declared that he would not go home without a missionary. He preferred the Protestant forms, but if Protestants would not go, he would apply to the Roman Catholic authorities. It was a novel thing for a pagan to stand up in a Christian assembly, asking for teachers in religion, and still more strange if he should ask in vain.

The traffic on the Northern Railroad has increased so rapidly that the tramway portion is about to give way to steam cars. The immense travel upon this road is beyond all expectation.

At present there are large numbers of vessels here seeking freight. The wool has chiefly gone. Last week there left this port seven vessels, taking 2,166 bales of wool, 12,000 hides, 23,000 horns, 200 pipes of tallow and 20,000 bones.

Lumber is so abundant that it has not been cheaper than now for the last twenty years. Flour is going up in price on account of the drought. In a week 17,000 hides have been sold for shipment to New-York at 42 rials. Since Nov. 1, to the present four months, there had been slaughtered 180,000 cattle.

The Candace has just made one of the shortest passages on record, from New-York in thirty-six days. She brings nine cotton gins for President LOPEZ, of Paraguay.

The English are making a movement to establish penal settlements on the Falkland Islands. If this is done, as the Patagonia Missionary Society has its headquarters on one of those islands, it will be sending the subject to the missionary—rather reversing the old process.

The United States Minister kept the 22d of February as a close holiday, closing his office.

Mr. PORTER C. BLISS, late Indian Agent here, and a native of New-York, is associated as editor of the Revu Platte Magazine, a popular monthly of this city.

OBSERVER.

Taxation in England.

As apropos to the present discussion on the subject among our own people just now, we give below some facts showing the system and scale of taxation in England, and its results, according to the most recent statements which we have at hand. We have followed the figures given in the British Almanac for 1864, and in using them we reduce the English currency, for the convenience of our readers, at the rate of $5 to the pound sterling, omitting fractions of millions.

The revenue of the United Kingdom in 1862 was about $355,000,000, and was derived as follows:

Customs	$120,000,000
Excise	90,000,000
Stamps	45,000,000
Lands and Assessed Taxes	15,000,000
Property Tax	55,000,000
Post-office	18,000,000
Other Receipts	12,000,000
Total	$355,000,000

Of the receipts from customs ninety per cent. are obtained from six articles, viz.: coffee, spirits, sugar, tea, tobacco and wines, as will appear from the following statement:

Coffee, duty 6c. ℔ lb	$2,000,000
Spirits, duty $2 50 ℔ gallon	13,000,000
Sugar, duty 3c. ℔ lb	33,000,000
Tea, duty 35c. ℔ lb	28,000,000
Tobacco, duty 75c. ℔ lb	28,000,000
Wines, duty 50c. ℔ gallon	5,000,000
Six articles	$109,000,000
All other articles	11,000,000
Total	$120,000,000

Nearly as large a proportion of the revenue from excise is supplied by three articles, viz.: spirits, malt and hops, as follows:

Spirits, $2 50 ℔ gallon	$50,000,000
Malt and hops	30,000,000
All other articles	10,000,000
Total	$90,000,000

Four-fifths of the stamp duties are obtained from probate-stamps, deeds and fire insurance:

Deeds	$9,000,000
Probate	18,000,000
Fire Insurance	9,000,000
Three classes	36,000,000
All other stamps	9,000,000
Total	$45,000,000

Of the Land and Assessed Taxes, houses, servants, horses and carriages, supply about eight-tenths, the dog-tax one-tenth, and other taxes one-tenth, as follows:

Land Tax	$6,000,000
Servants	500,000
Horses and Carriages	5,000,000
Dog and other taxes	3,500,000
Total	$15,000,000

Of the Property Tax nearly one-half is laid on incomes, and the rest on lands, mines, quarries, &c., viz.:

Income Tax	$25,000,000
Lands, &c.	30,000,000
Total	$55,000,000

Except eighteen millions of revenue from the Post-office, the remainder of the receipts of the British Exchequer are from many small sources, which need not be specified. The amount raised from these does not invalidate the position that in Great Britain, where taxation has been reduced to a science, it is found to be easier and better in raising a large revenue to raise it by heavy duties on a limited number of articles, rather than to seek to distribute the burden over a great number of subjects of taxation. That in either way the payment is at last made by the consumer, we need not take the trouble to show.

The bank circulation of the United Kingdom amounts to nearly 180 millions of dollars, and is thus divided:

Bk. of England	$105,000,000	Scotland	$20,000,000
Private Banks	15,000,000	Ireland	25,000,000
Joint Stock Bks.	14,000,000
Total			$179,000,000

These accounts show some remarkable facts.

1. That of the whole revenue of $355,000,000—
Spirits contribute $63,000,000, or 17½ per cent.
Beer contributes $30,000,000, or 8½ per cent.
Tea and Coffee contribute $30,000,000, or 8½ per cent.
Tobacco contributes $28,000,000, or 8 per cent.
Sugar contributes $33,000,000, or 9 per cent.
Wine contributes $5,000,000, or 1½ per cent.
Stamps contribute $45,000,000, or 12½ per cent.
Income and Property contribute $55,000,000, or 15½ per cent.
Land Tax contributes $6,000,000, or 1½ per cent.
Excise, besides Spirits, contribute $10,000,000, or 2½ per cent.
Post-office contributes $18,000,000, or 5 per cent.
Assessed Taxes contribute $9,000,000, or 2½ per cent.
Sundries contribute $23,000,000, or 6½ per cent.

2. The whole amount of revenue is double the amount of circulation, thus disposing of an alleged necessity for a great expansion of currency in order to collect high taxes.—Boston Advertiser.

WHAT MASSACHUSETTS HAS DONE FOR THE WAR—THE ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S REPORT.—The report of Adjt.-Gen. SCHOULER for the year 1863 has been printed, and makes a volume of upward of one thousand pages, and is a monument of industry and painstaking detail. It gives a detailed history of military affairs in this State, and of the regiments which are or have been in the field. The number of commissions issued during the year to officers in the three-years' regiments was 1,638, and to officers in the militia, 127. Ten thousand certificates for State aid have been issued. The work of making an alphabetical index of the soldiers' names in the official rolls will be completed this year. The amount of bounties paid up to Jan. 1, 1864, under the Act of Nov. 18, 1863, was $584,282.

Under the Acts of 1863, establishing a militia force in the State, 13 companies of infantry, 3 of artillery and 1 of cavalry have been raised and organized.

The number of persons enrolled for the draft which took place in June and July last was 107,386 in the first and 56,792 in the second class. The whole number drafted was 32,079; of these 6,690 were held to serve, but only 743 joined the service, 2,325 procured substitutes, 22,343 were exempted, 3,044 failed to report, 3,623 paid commutations, which amounted to $1,085,000. The enrollment made by the United States officers exceeded that made by the Assessors of the various cities and towns 809.

The number of three years men who have gone from this State from the beginning of the war to Jan. 1, 1864, including drafted men and substitutes, is 69,893. The number of nine months' men furnished was 17,744; of three months' men, 3,742. On the 1st January Massachusetts had in the service 36 regiments of infantry, 3 of cavalry, 2 of heavy artillery, 1 battalion of heavy artillery, 2 unattached companies of the same, 12 batteries of light artillery, and 2 companies of sharpshooters.

The report has evidently been prepared with great care, and contains a large amount of interesting and valuable information relative to the part Massachusetts has taken in the war.—Boston Journal, April 18.

HENRY CLAY'S REMAINS.—After an interment of twelve years, the remains of Mr. CLAY were removed last week upon the death of his wife, and placed side by side with hers beneath the beautiful monument erected to his memory in the Lexington Cemetery. Connected with this event, the Observer says, the wreath of immortelles placed upon his coffin by his friend, the gifted poetess, Mrs. ANN S. STEPHENS, prior to the removal of the body from Washington, was found to be in an almost perfect state of preservation, being but little faded, while a gold ring, bearing the initials "J. W.," which rested near the wreath, was as bright as though just from a jeweler's store.—Cincinnati Times, April 16.

TEN-FORTY GOVERNMENT LOAN.

UNITED STATES TREASURY.

NEW-YORK, April 4, 1864.

By direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, I hereby give notice that I am prepared to receive subscriptions on account of United States Bonds authorized by the act of March 3, 1864, bearing date March 1, 1864, redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after ten years, and payable forty years from date, bearing interest at five per centum a year, payable on bonds not over $100 annually and on all other bonds semi-annually, in coin.

Subscribers will receive either registered or coupon bonds, as they may prefer.

Registered bonds will be issued of the denominations of fifty dollars, ($50,) one hundred dollars, ($100,) five hundred dollars, ($500,) one thousand dollars, ($1,000,) five thousand dollars, ($5,000,) and ten thousand dollars, ($10,000,) and coupon bonds of the denominations of fifty dollars, ($50,) one hundred dollars, ($100,) five hundred dollars, ($500,) and one thousand dollars, ($1,000.)

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their bonds draw interest from March 1 or September 1, as the case may be, by paying the accrued interest in coin, (or United States notes, or the notes of National Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or receive them drawing interest from the date of subscription and deposit.

Upon the receipt of subscriptions, I will issue my certificate of deposit therefor in duplicate, the original of which will be forwarded by the subscriber to the Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, with a letter stating the kind, (registered or coupon,) and the denominations of bonds required.

Upon the receipt of the original certificates at the Treasury Department, the bonds subscribed for will be transmitted to the subscribers respectively.

A commission of one-eighth of one per cent. will be allowed to those subscribing for others or resale. The delivery of these bonds have commenced, and will be continued promptly.

ALBANY AND SUSQUEHANNAH RAILROAD COMPANY

(140 miles long)

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS FOR $1,000,000.
FOR SALE BY MARIE & KANZ, NO. 27 WILLIAM-STREET, NEW-YORK.

The undersigned now offer for sale $300,000 of the First Mortgage 7 per Cent. Bonds of the Albany and Susquehannah Railroad Company, (Ezra P. Prentice, President,) redeemable in New-York July 1, 1888, and convertible into stock at par within ten years.

The Bonds are in sums of $1,000 each, coupons payable Jan. 1 and July 1, in New-York City. They are executed to Daniel Drew and Alfred Van Santvoord, Trustees, and secured by a mortgage which "covers the whole of the said road, including the right of way, necessary real estate, superstructure, franchises and appurtenances belonging to, or to belong to the company; and is the first and a preferred lien thereon, except that one other mortgage, directed by a special act of the Legislature of the State of New-York to be executed to the City of Albany, to secure the payment of the principal and interest of $1,000,000 of bonds, to be issued by the said city as a loan in aid of the said road, which two mortgages are by the terms of the said act entitled to an equality of lien."

The length of road is 140 miles, entirely within the State of New-York, extending from the City of Albany to Binghamton on the Erie Railway, through a rich and productive region, forming valuable connections with other railroads at its two termini, and opening another avenue from the coal regions.

The first division of thirty-five miles from Albany to Schoharie has recently been opened for business; that portion from Schoharie to Oneonta, Otsego County, forty-five miles, has been let, and is now in progress; the balance is nearly ready for letting, and proposals are now advertised for grading and bridging fifty miles beyond Oneonta.

The cost of the first division, including rolling stock, is about $1,000,000, in addition to which $300,000 have been expended on the balance of the line; total expended to Jan. 1, 1864, $1,345,496.

The means of the company to complete the road, including what is already expended, are $2,000,000, individual and town subscriptions to the stock, of which $1,140,000 have been already paid in; $1,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds; $1,000,000 Albany City Loan, and $500,000 appropriated by the State of New-York, and payable one-half when the road is completed to Cobbleskill, forty miles; the balance when completed eighty miles—to Oneonta; total, $4,500,000. Estimated cost of the road when completed, $4,500,000, or about $32,000 per mile. The joint mortgages to secure the bonds issued by the company, and the bonds to be issued by the City of Albany, together $2,000,000, constitute a total lien of $14,300 per mile.

PROPOSALS FOR $300,000 CENTRAL PARK IMPROVEMENT FUND STOCK OF 1876.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Comptroller's Office until TUESDAY, the 17th day of May, 1864, at 2 o'clock P. M., when the same will be publicly opened for the whole or any part of the sum of Three Hundred Thousand Dollars of the Central Park Improvement Fund Stock, authorized by Chapter 85 of the Laws of 1860, and by an Ordinance of the Common Council, approved by the Mayor April 25, 1860.

The said Stock will bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum, payable quarter-yearly, and the principal will be redeemed November 1, 1876.

The proposals will state the amount of Stock desired, and the price per one hundred dollars thereof; and the persons whose proposals are accepted will thereupon be required to deposit with the Chamberlain of the City the sums awarded to them respectively.

On presenting to the Comptroller the receipts of the Chamberlain for such deposits, the parties will be entitled to receive certificates for equal amounts of the par value of the Stock, bearing interest from the dates of payments.

Each proposition should be sealed and indorsed "Proposals for Central Park Improvement Fund Stock," and inclosed in a second envelope, addressed to the Comptroller.

The right is reserved to reject any or all of the bids, if the interests of the Corporation require it.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at the office of the Minnesota Central Railway Company, in Minneapolis, Minnesota, until the 5th day of May, 1864, at 12 o'clock noon, for the grading, masonry and bridging on the branch line of said road from Mendota to St. Paul.

The work comprises a large amount of sand-rock excavation, and the masonry and superstructure of a bridge across the Mississippi River.

Notice is hereby given that on or about the same date, the work of completing the grading, masonry and bridging on the main line of said road, from Farribault to the Iowa State line, (57) fifty-seven miles, will be contracted for.

The work upon the branch line is of a very heavy character, and is worthy the attention of responsible contractors.

Payments will be made monthly, in cash, and bids received for the work in small or large quantities, the company reserving the right to reject any bids not satisfactory as to price or as to the responsibility of the parties making the same.

For information with regard to said work, application may be made to the Company's Chief Engineer, at Minneapolis, Minnesota.

S. CHAMBERLAIN, President.

D. C. SHEPARD, Chief Engineer.

PROPOSALS

PROPOSALS FOR FORAGE.

CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON DEPOT, Dec. 8, 1863.

SEALED PROPOSALS are invited by the undersigned for supplying the United States Quartermaster's Department, at Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., Alexandria and Fort Monroe, Va., or either of these places, with Hay, Corn, Oats and Straw.

Bids will be received for the delivery of 5,000 bushels of corn or oats, and 50 tons of hay or straw, and upward.

Bidders must state at which of the above-named points they propose to make deliveries, and the rates at which they will make deliveries thereat, the quantity of each article proposed to be delivered, the time when said deliveries shall be commenced, and when to be completed.

The price must be written out in words on the bids.

Corn to be put up in good stout sacks, of about two bushels each. Oats in like sacks, of about three bushels each. The sacks to be furnished without extra charge to the Government. The hay and straw to be securely baled.

The particular kind or description of oats, corn, hay or straw proposed to be delivered, must be stated in the proposals.

All the articles offered under the bids herein invited, will be subject to a rigid inspection by the Government Inspector before being accepted.

Contracts will be awarded from time to time to the lowest responsible bidder, as the interest of the Government may require, and payment will be made when the whole amount contracted for shall have been delivered and accepted.

The bidder will be required to accompany his proposal with a guarantee, signed by two responsible persons, that in case his bid is accepted, he or they will, within ten days thereafter, execute the contract for the same, with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to deliver the forage proposed in conformity with the terms of this advertisement; and in case the said bidder should fail to enter into the contract, they to make good the difference between the offer of said bidder and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

The responsibility of the guarantors must be shown by the official certificate of a United States District Attorney, Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government, or responsible person known at this office

All bidders will be duly notified of the acceptance or rejection of their proposals.

The full name and Post-office address of each bidder must be legibly written in the proposal.

Proposals must be addressed to Brigadier-General D. H. Rucker, Chief Depot Quartermaster, Washington, D. C., and should be plainly marked "Proposals for Forage."

Bonds, in the sum equal to the amount of the contract, signed by the contractor and both of his guarantors, will be required of the successful bidder or bidders upon signing the contract.

Blank forms of bids, guarantees and bonds, may be obtained upon application at this office.

FORM OF PROPOSAL.

Washington, D. C.

GUARANTEE.

We, the undersigned, residents of ———, in the County of ———, and State of ———, hereby jointly and severally covenant with the United States, and guarantee in case the foregoing bid of ——— be acccepted, that he or they will, within ten days after the acceptance of said bid, execute the contract for the same with good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to the amount of the contract, to furnish the forage proposed in conformity to the terms of advertisement dated Dec. 8, 1863, under which the bid was made, and, in case the said ——— shall fail to enter into a contract as aforesaid, we guarantee to make good the difference between the offer by the said ——— and the next lowest responsible bidder, or the person to whom the contract may be awarded.

Witness. { Given under our hands and seals this ——— day of ———, 186 [Seal.] [Seal.]

I hereby certify that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, the above-named guarantors are good and sufficient as sureties for the amount for which they offer to be security.

To be certified by the United States District-Attorney, Collector of Customs, or any other officer under the United States Government, or responsible person known at this office.

All proposals received under this advertisement will be opened and examined at this office on Wednesday and Saturday of each week, at 12 M. Bidders are respectfully invited to be present at the opening of bids, if they desire.

D. H. RUCKER,
Brigadier-General and Quartermaster.

ORDNANCE OFFICE, WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at this office until WEDNESDAY, April 27, at 4 P. M., for 100,000 sets of Infantry Accoutrements, calibre 58, to be delivered in the following quantities at the undernamed Arsenals, viz.:

30,000 sets at the New-York Arsenal, Governor's Island.
20,000 sets at the Frankfort Arsenal, Bridesburgh, Pa.
30,000 sets at the Allegbany Arsenal, Pittsburgh, Pa.
20,000 sets at the St. Louis Arsenal, St. Louis, Mo.

These accoutrements are to be made in strict conformity with the new pattern sets to be seen at the Alleghany, New-York, Frankford, St. Louis, Watervliet, Watertown and Washington Arsenals, and the Springfield Armory. It is to be distinctly understood that this department is to have the privilege of inspecting the work done under any contract it may award, in all stages of its progress, at the shops of the contractor, especially to examine the stock before cutting. They are to be subject to inspection at the Arsenal where delivered, before being received for the Government. None are to be accepted or paid for but such as are approved, upon inspection. The belts to be of grained leather, and all the stock to be the best oak tanned. The shoulder belt will be included in the set.

Deliveries must be made in lots of not less than one-fifteenth (1-15) per week of the whole number contracted for; the first delivery to be made on the 21st day of May.

Failure to make deliveries at a specified time will subject the contractor to a forfeiture of the number he may fail to deliver at that time.

The accoutrements must be boxed in the usual manner; the boxes to be charged at cost, to be determined by the inspector.

Bidders will state explicitly the Arsenal, or Arsenals, where they propose to deliver, and the number of sets they propose to deliver at each place, if for more than one.

No bids will be considered from parties other than regular manufacturers, and such as are known to this Department to be fully competent to execute in their own shops the work proposed for. Should any party obtaining a contract offer accoutrements other than those made in his own shops, they will be rejected, and the contract rendered null and void. The name and place of manufacture of each party obtaining a contract must be stamped on each part of each set of accoutrements.

Bidders will inclose with their bids the written acknowledgments of their sureties, over their own signatures.

Each party obtaining a contract will be obliged to enter into bond, with approved sureties, for its faithful execution.

Upon the award being made, successful bidders will be notified, and furnished with forms of contract and bond.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all bids, if not deemed satisfactory.

Proposals will be addressed to "Brigadier-General George D. Ramsay, Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C.," indorsed "Proposals for Infantry Accoutrements."

GEORGE D. RAMSAY,
Brig.-Gen., Chief of Ordnance.

PROPOSALS FOR HATS, CAPS, SHOES, DRY GOODS, SEWING MATERIALS, &c.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON,
OFFICE OF CHIEF QUARTERMASTER,
WASHINGTON, March 26, 1864.

WRITTEN PROPOSALS will be received at this office until further notice for furnishing the following articles for use of contraband men, women and children in this department. Brogans (russet, &c.,) and other serviceable boots and shoes for men, women and children's wear.

Chip, felt and woollen hats, and cloth caps.

Kerseys, linseys, ginghams, blankets, and other woolen and cotton goods.

Hickory stripes (for shirts,) bed-ticking, unbleached muslin, and woolen socks.

Spool cotton, black and white linen thread.

Bone suspender-buttons, large buttons for coats.

White porcelain buttons, yarn, needles, and other sewing materials and trimmings.

Samples should be sent with each bid, at the expense of the party forwarding the same.

An oath of allegiance should accompany each bid.

No verbal propositions will be entertained, but every bid or modification of the same must be in writing.

Purchases will be made from time to time as the goods are needed, under contract or otherwise, as the interests of the service may require.

Good security will be required for the faithful fulfillment of any contract made under this advertisement.

Proposals should be sealed and addressed to the undersigned, and indorsed "Proposals for Furnishing Dry Goods, &c."

ELIAS M. GREENE,
Lieutenant-Colonel and Chief Quartermaster,
Department of Washington.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

ENGINEER'S OFFICE, PARKERSBURGH, Va.,
April 20, 1864.

The Baltimore and Ohio, and Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad Companies will receive sealed proposals at this office, until the 2d day of May next, for the mason work of the Railroad Bridge to be built over the Ohio River, at Parkersburgh, West Virginia.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the Engineer's office, at Parkersburgh. The companies reserve the right to reject any or all bids.
